SENATE SPEEDS RECOVERY BILL

Leaders Hope For Ballot On President's Big Measure

WASHINGTON, June 2—(UP)—Leaders hope to get President Roosevelt's recovery bill through the senate today. Prospects were that the bill when passed will carry authorizations and appropriations exceeding $3,600,000,000.

In a 10 hour session that adjourned at 9:27 p. m., Wednesday, total funds provided in the bill were boosted to $3,322,000,000 by a vote to increase a $25,000,000 senate committee authorization for the Rural Electrification administration to $100,000,000.

Another $300,000,000 may be added to it today when Sen. Robert F. Wagner, D. N. Y., offers the housing bill as an amendment. This proposal, requested by Mr. Roosevelt in his recovery message, was made a separate bill in the house. Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, D. Ky., called the senate into session an hour early again today in an effort to obtain final approval of the recovery measure. He plans to convene early and to keep the senators working late until the bill is passed.

Fights over power, administration of relief, and earmarking of funds remained unsettled. All committee amendments except one had been acted on when the proposal of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D. ### GALE PREVENTS LINER'S DOCKING AT CHERBOURG

LONDON, June 2—(UP)—The liner Queen Mary was unable to dock at Cherbourg today during a severe Summer gale which lashed southern England, the English channel and the French coast.

The wind velocity reached 80 miles an hour in many places. There were heavy rains which flooded seaside towns and demolished temporary stands at beach resorts. A 90-foot steel television tower at the Epsom race track was wrecked.

Lifboats were called out along the South coast to aid distressed vessels. Seven fishing vessels were overdue at Hastings.

The Queen Mary attempted to dock at Cherbourg three times but was prevented from doing so by the high seas and terrific wind. Some of the 220 passengers waiting to be picked up slept in waiting rooms at the dock and at the casino. Among those stranded were the Duke and Duchess of Leeds.

Wheat Crop To Provide New Record

1915 Mark To Be Passed; 1,077,000,000 Bushels To Be Harvested

CHICAGO, June 2—(UP)—Private crop experts today forecast for 1938 the largest U. S. wheat crop ever harvested, the average estimate being 1,077,000,000 bushels as compared with the previous record crop of 1,009,000,000 bushels in 1915.

Favorable crop weather in the last month resulted in an increase of 67,000,000 bushels in the average estimate of the Winter wheat crop, which the experts today placed at $10,000,000 bushels as compared with their own average estimate one month ago of 743,000,000 bushels.

Today's forecast on Winter wheat production of approximately 820,000,000 bushels in 1931, and exceeds the government estimate of last month by 56,000,000 bushels.

Farm-Aid Program Drawn by Wallace

WASHINGTON, June 2—(UP)—Department of agriculture officials prepared today for a gigantic farm-aid program to bolster the purchasing power of 6,000,000 farmers.

Tentative plans drawn by aides of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, presumably at his direction, call for a federal lending-spending farm program involving $1,300,000,000 to $1,400,000,000 in the next 12 months.

Direct aid to farmers in soil conservation payments rural relief, purchase of surpluses, subsidy and parity payments to be either obligated or paid in the next year, will total approximately $1,000,000,000.

In addition, government agencies expect to lend farmers up to $350,000,000 for storage of surplus wheat, cotton and corn. The farm security administration plans to loan farmers approximately $100,000,000 to make crops and buy farms.

Three factors influenced the department in planning the most comprehensive farm program ever undertaken by the government:

1. Prospects of another bumper crop, added to huge surpluses from last year.
2. A drop of nearly one-third in market prices of farm products during the past year.
3. The decline of farm purchasing power to 74 percent of pre-war.

BRITAIN VICTOR IN EFFORTS FOR CIVIL WAR END

LONDON, June 2—(UP)—Great Britain won the first important move in efforts to arrange an Armistice in the Spanish civil war today when Soviet Russia withdrew objections to the British plan for evacuation of foreign volunteers.

The Soviet, which had been holding up the plan, agreed to accept the method of counting volunteers, a division of the volunteers into four main categories and the restoration of land and sea control of the Spanish frontier.

Russia's acceptance of the non-intervention committee plan was announced after it was learned that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain intended to go beyond the scope of the committee's work because he was not satisfied with its relatively negative efforts.

J. Edgar Hoover Arrives In Princeton, Fla.; Several Suspects Grilled

STORM DEPLETES POSSES

Army Of 3,200 Helping Hunt Five Year Old Child

PRINCETON, Fla., June 2—(UP)—Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation arrived in Florida today to take personal command of the hunt for the kidnapers of five year old Jimmy Cash.

PRINCETON, Fla., June 2—(UP)—A heavy Summer rainstorm broke over the Florida Everglades today, beating out possible clues in the kidnaping of five-year-old Jimmy Cash and hampering the search of a posse that has grown to number 3,500.

A corps of G-men, led by Inspector E. J. Connelly, believe however that greed of the kidnapers or desperate need for money to make a getaway may lead them to attempt to pass some of the $10,000 ransom paid by James B. Cash, Sr., father of the abducted baby.

Printed and mimeographed lists of serial numbers of the "hot money" appeared on almost every cash register and on the desk of every bank teller in Florida this morning. It seemed unlikely that anyone of the ransom bills could be cashed without quick recognition.

Posse To Be Depleted

The rainfall added seriously to the difficulties of searchers in the swampy southern Florida Everglades and J. Fritz Gordon, Miami attorney who organized plans for the search, said his force of possmen will be depleted.

Five days after the boy was abducted from his bedroom, only his parents were convinced he still is alive. Cash and his wife were in complete seclusion at their home, but W. P. Cash, an uncle of the boy, said they still believe the kidnapers may surrender their son safely.

After being near prostration at abduction of her only child, Mrs. Cash was resting under sedatives, the uncle said.

Although reduced in scope, the search proceeded under a closely-coordinated plan. Legionnaires and other veterans, W. P. A. and C. C. C. workers, farmers, fishermen and trappers beat through the scrub oak and palmetto.

A fleet of radio-equipped police cars from Miami and Miami Beach cruised along the highways in the region, helping coordinate the search by radio.

As the forenoon advanced, the rainfall grew heavier and searching parties gradually dwindled. Reports, without confirmation because of official secrecy, circulated that the G-men were near a solution. They had questioned over 30 men and were subjecting at least three to an intensive interrogation.

EVELYN SWINGS OUT IN "NICE WORK" AS ROYAL FAMILY, OTHERS LISTEN

LONDON, June 2—(UP)—Evelyn Dall, a 20-year-old ash-blond American singer, made history last night at Buckingham palace when she sang "Nice Work If You Can Get It" to King George and Queen Elizabeth, other members of the royal family, and 1,000 guests. The occasion was the Royal Derby night ball in the white and gold ballroom of Buckingham palace. Among the guests were United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Peter Beatty, owner of Bois Roussel, who won the 159th running of the derby yesterday.

Evelyn "swung it" in typical American fashion. The ball was considered one of the most informal ever held at Buckingham palace. Her other songs were, "Some Day My Prince Will Come."

STYLE BLENDED IN VIEUX CARRE OLD BUILDINGS

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — New Orleans' famous French and Spanish architecture is neither French nor Spanish—it's local.

So said Paul Philippe Cret, of Philadelphia, recently awarded the gold medal of the American Institute of Architects at their convention here.

In the opinion of Cret, a native of France, the famed old buildings of the city's Vieux Carre are a product of the evolution of Spanish and French culture.

"Some buildings have pure French architecture in the front main buildings and yet their patios are pure Spanish," Cret said.

Cret, professor for 35 years at the University of California, deplored the rapid demolition of the

Oil Fortune Heir to Fly World After Specimens

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 2—(UP)—The world's largest privately owned airplane—a 14-ton consolidated airboat—was ready today for a flight halfway around the world to collect specimens for the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

This afternoon, Richard Archbold, 30, heir to a Standard Oil fortune, will lift his big craft off the San Diego harbor and head out over the Pacific toward Honolulu.

The big plane, with its crew of six, is expected to complete in 18 hours the first leg of the flight of more than 6,284 nautical miles. The entire flight to Hollandia, on the north-eastern coast of Dutch Guinea, is expected to require about 47 hours flying time.

To Pioneer Airplane

In addition to the stop at Honolulu, Archbold plans to land also at Wake island. If weather conditions are satisfactory, Archbold will fly from there directly to New Guinea, pioneering a new air route over 2,018 miles of the Pacific.

Should weather conditions be adverse, Archbold will fly from Wake to Guam, and then head for New Guinea, again traversing an area no airplane ever has flown.

For the years after his arrival in the jungles of New Guinea, Archbold and his companions will use the big plane to transport supplies to a ground party of the American Museum of Natural history. Archbold is a research associate of the museum and an expert mammalogist.

A base will be established on Lake Habbema. From this base city's ancient buildings to make room for the new, and said Orleanians could do much to preserve their old landmarks. Many other cities have already completed the construction and there is nothing there to preserve, he said.

BOOKS IN SOUND OFFERED BLIND

PASADENA, Cal., June 2—(UP)—A W.P.A. project which places in the hands of the blind the world's best literature that can be heard instead of having to be slowly read out by the Braille system is meeting with great success in Southern California.

At present more than 500 of the phonograph-like machines are in use in the immediate vicinity here, while the library of electrically transcribed records is increasing daily.

These records embrace not only entire novels, but excerpts from others, Biblical lessons, essays, plays and biographies but also dramatized versions of many pieces of literature that can best be presented in that form.

Time Is Conserved

These records are supplied by the state library and the Braille Institute. They enable the blind to continue many little occupations while listening to classic literature instead of being obliged to read it with their fingers from the Braille page.

Novels are dramatically read on these records and often whole plays are enacted. Robert L. Stevenson's "Treasure Island," for example, runs to 12 records.

Zane Grey's "Riders of the Purple Sage" is 17 records long while his "The U. P. Trail" runs to 23 twelve-inch records.

There are educational talks like one by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, of the California Institute of Technology on "Science and the New Civilization," combined with one by Gamaliel Bradford on "American Portraits," in a series of 17 records.

Service Is Free

Blind users of the "books," of which 500 have been allotted to California, order the records from a mimeographed list several pages long. The records are sent out and are returnable free of charge.

Among other best sellers, "Gone With the Wind," are being transcribed. It will require 40 records.

The machines are so arranged that if the blind desire so, they can use ear phones. Their two great advantages consist in relieving the blind of the monotony of constant finger reading and also of permitting them to keep up some line of work with their hands while listening.

TOWNSEND SAYS HIS BACKERS TO ACT IN ELECTION

Aged Pension Leader Goes Before Ohio Solons To Ask Support

RATIFICATION URGED

800 Supporters In Gallery Cheer Address

COLUMBUS, June 2—(UP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, leader of the revolving old age pension plan, was on record today with the promise that the Townsend forces will again campaign actively in the Ohio congressional contests this year.

In an interview with newspapermen following addresses to the house of representatives and the senate taxation and relief committee, Dr. Townsend said the organization would endorse candidates favorable to the pension plan. The 71-year-old physician was given a tumultuous ovation by an estimated 800 enthusiastic supporters when he addressed the senate committee.

He spoke in support of a resolution asking Congress to submit for ratification constitutional amendment embodying essentials of his plan. The scheme calls for payment of a $200 monthly pension to all persons over 60, to be financed by a two percent transaction tax.

Sen. Bernard J. McCluskey, D. Cuyahoga, author of the senate resolution and Sen. John F. Myers, D. Stark, vied with each other in showing Dr. Townsend about the capitol. His followers flocked about him in the legislative halls seeking to shake his hand.

During his address Dr. Townsend said the present economic system must be changed even if it requires a "bloody revolution."

Later he explained that he did not advocate such methods but meant only to leave the impression that disastrous events would occur unless changes were made.

THE QUINTS GO HOME

THE famous Dionne family at Callander, Ont., at last are going to be all under one roof, just as Pere and Mere Dionne have insisted all along. Just one great, big, happy family—perhaps! The world will hold its breath and hope for the best, as the grand new house is built and the parents and quintuplets and elder and younger brothers and sisters all move in.

Possibly the quints can stand it now. But it will be a struggle, with Papa and Mama picking the nurses and teachers. And good old Dr. Dafee will pay a high price for family unity.

Thanks to the doctor, aided by a paternal government, those five little girls have earned their own living, paid for their luxurious mode of life and accumulated a fortune, and are taking good care of their parents. They still deserve a reasonable amount of letting alone.

It is natural that the simple-minded, uncultured parents should be jealous. They cannot understand such things as hygiene, guardianship, trust funds for their children and state responsibility for their upbringing. It is necessary to compromise.

In a way, the Dionne parents will still be fighting a losing battle, and not alone. Society everywhere in civilized lands exerts more and more jurisdiction over the rearing of children, whether multiple or single. And it must be so, for the good of all.

A SHIP FOR PEACE

ANOTHER luxury steamship bidding for American tourist patronage this summer will enter the regular transatlantic service with its appearance in New York harbor on June 13. This is the Oslofjord, new flagship of the Norwegian-America line. On the Scandinavian end of her voyage, the ship will dock only a few minutes away from the Also Exhibition ground, where a fair will depict for visitors the scenic, social and economic beauties and achievements of Norway and its neighbors.

The most interesting thing about the vessel is that it has been designed and built with no thought of its possible quick conversion to wartime purposes. Many big liners are justified by their builders because of their value as troop ships during a foreign war. The fate is not contemplated for the Oslofjord. Norway has not been involved as a belligerent in war for more than 100 years and believes that it has learned how to keep peace with the world.

Ours is supposedly a peaceful land, too, but our history shows a war of one sort or another every generation since the Revolution.

A woman protests that "darling" is used too much nowadays, and another woman says that's O. K. because "it's such a darling of a word."

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:

Up at the usual hour and soon about the ville, being halted first at the Circleville Savings and Banking Co. where Miriam Weaver, a high school junior, has an interesting art display. Miriam has painted in life size—or what might be life size if they ever really did live—the Seven Dwarfs and Snow White. That girl has real talent. The display still is at the bank and is worth seeing.

Now that Memorial Day is past again, I am firmer than ever in my conviction that on this day we give too much thought to those yet to be legally murdered. Maybe I was right about that quail after all. Neighbor H. W. Plum says he has seen quail in our neighborhood. Bill Reid said what I heard one morning was not a quail at all, but a starling. Starlings, he declares are great imitators. Me, I don't know what it was, for I didn't see it. And, liking both H. W. and Bill, I will give over one day to believing it was a quail and another to certainty that it was a starling.

Met Mrs. Harry Stevenson, she being here for a visit from Cincinnati where she is learning to become a beautician. "Get up on the rooftops, scrivener, and shout to the world that a town such as ours is better than a city any time of day," she said. Noted that the Circle theatre is closed. Chatted with Henry Mader, who now will devote all his time to his potato chip plant. Dropped in on Lawrence Goeller at his factory and found him deep in a manufacturing problem. Learned that Harry Gordon and wife will be in the ville Saturday, enroute from their home in Parkersburg, W. Va., to their Summer camp at Eagle's Nest, Ontario.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN.

BASE TO BE PROPOSED

WASHINGTON—You can look for some spectacular moves to cement Pan-American relations when and if the President takes his trip down the West Coast of South America this summer.

Undoubtedly the chief reasons for Roosevelt's sea jaunt would be that he loves a good sea voyage and long has wanted to have a look at Chile, Peru, Ecuador and Colombia on the Pacific Coast of the Continent.

However, when the President takes a trip of this kind he likes to have some excuse for going, and the general excuse will be further cementing of neighborly relations between the United States and South America at a time when war threatens in Europe.

So it should cause no surprise if the President proposes a Pan-American naval base or bases to be used by the nations of this hemisphere in case of European war. With this proposal would go a plan for Pan-American naval cooperation.

Chief value of such a base, of course, would be to the United States. It would give this country an excuse to keep ships in South American waters without appearing to impose on good neighborly relations. The possibility of sending ships to aid Brazil has been in the back of some official minds in case that country is menaced by another fascist revolt. In fact, it is already known that such aid would not be unwelcome to Brazil, which has always had close naval cooperation with the United States.

Moreover, when the United States Fleet steams to New York for the World's Fair next year, certain important Cabinet members would like to see part of it remain permanently in Atlantic waters in order to be on hand in case of Fascist or Nazi flare-ups among our neighbors.

NOTE—The admirals are inclined to discount Mayor LaGuardia's influence upon the President regarding the Fleet's visit to New York. They attribute its shift to a desire to impress Germany and Italy with U. S. naval strength in the Atlantic.

HAGUE AND MRS. ROOSEVELT

A reporter at her press conference asked Mrs. Roosevelt how she would explain to a "man from Mars, Mayor Hague's flouting of the Constitution."

"That would be extremely difficult," replied Mrs. Roosevelt.

SPANISH EMBARGO

When Senator Nye of North Dakota introduced his resolution to lift the arms embargo against Spain, not many people realized the political risk he took. Nye is up for re-election this year, facing a primary fight with Republican Governor Bill Langer, a Catholic. As a result of Nye's Spanish resolution, Catholic sentiment in his State is strong against him.

Nye, himself, realized the risk he took, in fact had before him the example of Representative Hildebrandt of South Dakota, who was defeated in the Senatorial primary partly because of Catholic resentment at his signing a greeting to the Cortes (Congress) of Spain.

Catholic opposition to Hildebrandt followed a telegram sent by Bishop Bernard Joseph Mahoney of South Dakota denouncing him for sending the greeting to the Cortes.

What Can Be Done to Aid Damaged Liver

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
AFTER I discussed the newer methods of assessing liver damage last week, I was asked what could be done to put a damaged liver back into condition.

We are able now by physiological tests to recognize quite minute amounts of liver damage. And by proper management much can be done to restore a liver to full function. The liver is, of all internal organs in the body, the one which is able best to regenerate its own cells. When the heart or the brain or the kidneys lose a cell or a group of cells, the defect is filled in with scar tissue and the destroyed cells are forever out. This is not serious in the case of the kidneys because we can get along with about one-third the kidney substance we normally own.

The liver, however, regenerates its own functioning cells, and even if a lobule is destroyed, it is possible to replace it. As with the kidney, only a part of the liver need function at any one time.

But with widespread liver damage, it is worth while trying to replace the damaged cells. Feeding sugar and simple sweets is one way to do this. The liver responds to glucose and thrives on it.

Salt Valuable
Salt is also a valuable food to assist the liver to regenerate.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Several years ago Dr. Rowntree advocated salt and sugar for cirrhosis, and believed that even in that serious condition considerable regeneration occurred.

The elimination of poisons which are absorbed and damage the liver is naturally fundamental. These poisons are absorbed from the intestines, because practically all the contents of the intestines which are absorbed into the blood stream go first to the liver. Among the common poisons, alcohol comes in for most of the blame. Although some doubts have been thrown on this idea, most physicians at the bedside believe that alcohol does a great deal of liver damage, and certainly anyone who has evidence that his liver function is diminished should give up its use indefinitely.

Besides this, it may be possible to reduce the amount of intestinal poisons by the use of acidophilus milk or ordinary brewer's yeast in substantial amounts.

Concentrated liver extract and vitamins B and C also seem to have a stimulating effect on the liver. They can be taken twice a week. This regimen should continue for at least three months.

well? Or did you over-do yesterday? Sometimes, a change to that attitude is a little taxing at first.

"No, thank you. I'm quite all right. In fact I feel especially fine. Don't you just love it here? The crisp mountain air, dry and invigorating? I'm starving."

Neither mentioned the little episode on the dance floor at El Tecolote last night. (Nor was it every mentioned between them, in all the remainder of their lives.)

A hotel clerk came to her table then and gave her four telegrams. They were all from Sid Bromberg, demanding to know where she was, when she would return to Hollywood, what her plans were. One was to the hotel manager himself, making similar demands.

Ellen dimpled sweetly, showing Bill the yellow sheets.

"Answer him, please," she instructed the clerk, "saying that I have gone. Gone to—Australia. Or somewhere."

"Yes, miss," the clerk bowed away, smiling.

She had been at the hotel under her real name—Ellen Daggs. So far only she and Bill and the clerks knew she was Ellen Dale. She liked to stay incognito; it kept red and black designs, and some genuine "levis" or denim pants such as cowboys wear. On her head she wore a red bandana tied peasant fashion, revealing just enough of her blond curls.

"Hello! Good morning!" Bill greeted her, rising. "I have just ordered. Will you join me?"

She slipped into the chair he held for her, without a word, but smiling prettily. In that moment Mr. William Eason knew that his stern intentions were all shot to pieces again. He had been promising himself to be strictly businesslike with Ellen Dale hereafter, but when Ellen turned the full power of her ingenuite smile—

The six or eight early diners all were talking, and one elderly lady leaned over to address Ellen.

"Did you hear the frog, my dear? He must be very eccentric. He was croaking positively at day-break!"

"Oh!" cried Ellen. "Was that—what El Conquistador?"

"Yes! Isn't his voice terrible? He—"

Ellen heard no more. She looked instantly at Bill, and turned so gloriously pink that even Bill noticed it.

"You're a little flushed, Ellen," he said, solicitously. "Do you feel

Girl Graduates Guests At Lovely Dinner Party

Business Women Entertain at Parish House

Colorful bouquets of garden flowers with red roses predominating formed the effective decorations in the parish house of St. Philip's church, Wednesday evening, when the Business and Professional Women's club entertained the girl graduates of Circleville high school at a banquet. The affair conformed to a custom of long standing.

Masses of flowers were in the deep recesses of the windows and across the front of the stage where the program was presented after the dinner hour. Four tables were arranged parallel down the length of the room with the speakers table across the end. Bowls of roses centered the tables which were lighted with tall blue candles in matching holders. Attractive favors of miniature baskets of green and silver filled with candy flowers were at each place. The traditional place cards of the club were used on this occasion.

The youthful beauty of the 34 girls in their dainty formal of all hues added the crowning touch to the setting for the affair.

Miss Charlotte McEwing served as toastmistress in the absence of Mrs. H. B. Given, and welcomed the guests. Miss Harriet Harman of the graduates responded for her classmates. Miss McEwing then spoke of the program as a departure from the usual procedure saying that it would be streamlined, comprised entirely of music, with no set address.

Miss Ethyl May was introduced and opened the musical evening with a piano solo, "Sunrise" by De Leone. Miss May and Miss Dorothy Glick played a duet, "Marche Militaire", by Schubert for the second number.

Miss Eleanor Snyder, with Miss Abbe Mills Clarke as her accompanist, sang three selections, "Serenade to the Stars" from "Mad About Music", "Gavotte" from Mignon, finishing with the ever welcome, "When I have sung my Songs" by Ernest Charles. The delightful affair was enjoyed by 56 club members and guests.

Mrs. Rhoades Hostess

Mrs. Scott Radcliff and Mrs. James Butt were asked as substitute players Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Marvin Rhoades of Jackson township was hostess to the members of her bridge club. Two tables were in play with prizes won by Mrs. George Shook and Mrs. Orel Radner. Refreshments were served at the small tables after the games. Mrs. Ross Hamilton will entertain the club in two weeks.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

WHEN PLANTING a tree about the home grounds, consideration should be given to the factor of whether the tree is to be purely ornamental or whether its purpose is to furnish shade, and whether it is to stand alone or to have shrubs planted beneath it.

Figure 1 of this Garden-Graph shows a type of tree such as the English beech, purple beech, Japanese maple, black gum and European linden, the lower branches of which should never be trimmed off. With this type of tree the lower limbs should be allowed to grow naturally for the beauty of the tree lies in an effective spread of the lower limbs.

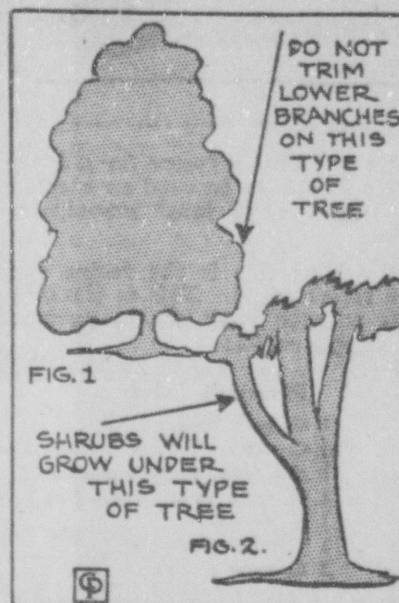

Figure 2 shows a high branching type of tree such as the elm. With lower limbs pruned off as the tree grows, this eventually makes an ideal shade tree and one under which shrubs can be grown.

There are also other trees whose lower branches should never be removed because of the beauty of the foliage, or flowers and fruits they bear.

CLOSED CONFAB CALLED TO AIR AID PROBLEMS

Uible Invites Spokesmen For Various Interested Groups To Conference

WELFARE BILL APPROVED

Loans of $2,000,000 May Be Made To Big Cities

COLUMBUS, June 2—(UP)—Hopeful that a preliminary open conference "cleared the dust," House Speaker Frank R. Uible today called a closed meeting of spokesmen for numerous private and public groups in an attempt to arrive at an agreed solution for perhaps the most baffling relief problem yet to confront the legislature.

Without reaching an agreement the conferees argued for three hours last night over the amount needed to finance relief for the rest of the year, methods for raising money, and how the funds should be distributed.

No program had general support, but Uible said he thought further round table talks might prove effective. He expressed hope that progress would be made in a closed meeting this morning of a smaller number of spokesmen for the same interests.

Many in Conference

The conferees included representatives and senators, spokesmen for Governor Davey, and officials of such groups as the League of Ohio Municipalities, the Ohio Education Association, the chamber of commerce, the Interorganization Conferencor, the Ohio Farm Bureau and Grange and organized labor.

In the meantime house leadership remained undecided whether to bring up for passage without further delay the Laderman-De-Righer bill appropriating $2,000,000 for emergency relief loans to distressed metropolitan counties.

The state finance director's office, although disputed, has contended the money is not available from the general revenue fund because of existing encumbrances. With this avenue partially blocked leaders considered borrowing the money from highway, industrial commission or the liquor rotary funds.

Only major action on the floor of either house occurred when the house passed the senate Baggett-Kane bill appropriating $1,000,000 from the general revenue toward a $1,900,000 institutional building program. The funds would be used to match federal allocations.

The welfare department, it was reported contemplates the following expenditures for state hospitals for the insane under the bill: Cleveland state hospital, $500,000; Massillon, $400,000; Dayton $200,000; Longview (Cincinnati) $300,000; and Toledo, $100,000 or $200,000.

Question Unanswered

The bill now goes to the governor, but proponents of quick action to ease the relief crisis asked how this money could be taken from the general revenue fund if moneys are not available for relief loans.

Estimates of relief needs for the rest of 1938 at the speaker's conference varied from $13,000,000 to $17,000,000. Although this difference existed, it appeared that numerous rural interests are now convinced that relief funds should be distributed on the basis of need. Urban members said this alone justified the creation of the special relief investigating committee.

City officials and several legislators renewed a plea for legislation enabling local governments to broaden their taxing powers if counties must match state grants, but this was vigorously opposed by J. L. Marsha, Youngstown, spokesmen for oil interests and the Inter-organization Conference.

Earl E. Hagerman, Dayton finance director and president of the League of Municipalities, again expressed belief that relief should be considered a state responsibility, but that if it is not so considered, cities' resources for raising revenue must be expanded.

Questions and Answers

Do you have a recipe for a Pineapple Relish to be used as a salad or served as a meat accompaniment?

We hope this is the recipe you are referring to. This is the way you prepare your double purpose Pineapple relish:

- Pineapple Relish
- 1 C. weak vinegar
- 1/2 C. sugar
- 1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin
- 1 C. warm water
- 1 C. walnuts
- 1 C. diced pineapple
- 1 C. sweet pickles

Boil vinegar and sugar until it spins a thread (232 degrees). Dissolve gelatin in warm water and add to syrup. Chop walnuts, pineapple, pickles, and mix well. Pour gelatin mixture over this. Chill until firm.

How can I utilize the liquid from maraschino cherries?

Save the liquid from maraschino cherries to use with canned pineapple. Drain off the pineapple juice, cover the slices of fruit with the cherry syrup, and let them stand for several hours. This color the fruit a delicate shade of pink and imparts a faint flavor of the cherry. Pineapple prepared in this way makes exceptionally dainty salads and desserts.

Can you tell me an easy way for removing gelatin salads or desserts from their mold? I have trouble with the gelatin melting as I dip the mold in warm water for removal of the contents.

When preparing molds for gelatin salads or desserts, brush with a light coating of any tasteless salad oil. This makes for easy removal of the finished product. It does away with the necessity of dipping mold in hot water and running risk of gelatin melting and top of mold losing its shape.

Is it possible to remove the odor of fish and onions from a skillet in which they have been cooked?

A sure way to remove the odor and taste from a pan or skillet in which fish, onion, or other "smelly" foods have been cooked is to simmer some vinegar in the vessel for a few minutes. If a few spices are added, the fragrant spicy smell will remove all odor from the house.

Can you suggest a hot bread to serve with a Vegetable Salad for lunch?

Try these delicious Lemon Muffins. Here's the recipe:

- Lemon Muffins
- 1/2 C. butter
- 1/2 C. sugar
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1 C. flour
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 C. lemon juice
- Grated rind 1/2 lemon

Cream butter and sugar, and beat in the yolks of the eggs. To this mixture add alternately lemon juice and sifted flour with baking powder and salt. Stir in grated rind. Lastly fold in beaten egg whites. Fill well greased muffin tins 2/3 full and bake at 400 degrees for about 18 minutes.

Ashville Frost Recalled

It was on Sunday morning, June 6, 1859, that what is known now as "the big June frost," occurred, said Jerome Peters Thursday when we asked him about it. Told us he was ten years old then and not far from eleven, his birthday being on August 22. One thing he "awfully well" remembers, and that was cutting off acres of wilted corn tops with sheep shears in that hot sun following the frost. But by replanting, a good crop of corn was harvested that Fall, the season for growing, being favorable. The wheat about shoulder high and in head, was entirely destroyed as he recalls. There was no such thing as a corn planter then, deep furrows, made with a single shovel plow, stretched out across what was not usually a very large field. The corn grains were dropped out of hand and covered by what was known as a "jumper" or sometimes called "cold-hopper". And if the great corn acres were planted this way now, there would be little unemployment, Mr. Peters thought. And earlier than this June we are speaking of, snow covered the wheat when in head. Ropes were used to dislodge it and the wheat treated in this manner yielded nothing, but that which the snow had not disturbed, but allowed to remain, gave a good account of itself.

So make up your mind right now you'll have that good time you are counting on and have it at Ashville on July 4.

VANDER MEER WINS FOURTH GAME FOR REDLEGS; BROOKLYN LOSES

And That About This In Many Sports

MANAGERS CALLED

Managers ONLY of Circleville recreation ball teams are asked to attend a meeting in The Daily Herald office Friday at 8 p. m. to discuss "matters at hand". Principal issue is possession of Pitcher Leonard Buskirk, claimed by Blue Ribbon Dairy and Ralston-Purina. The only persons invited to the meeting are managers or their representatives. Each club will be permitted ONE spokesman. The league has started on the right foot, interest seems high and the various teams strong enough to give good accounts of themselves.

COACHES HONORED

High school athletes were hosts Wednesday evening at a banquet for Coach Jack Landrum, who is leaving to enter Boy Scout work, and Coach-elect Roy Black of Urbana. Several talks followed the dinner, with both coaches, Robert Terhune, Virgil Cress, Kenneth Smith, Gene Arledge and Johnny Noggle, the latter two co-captains of the football team, being heard in brief addresses.

PULLING DATES SET

The Hintons, Vincents and all others who have draft horses that really know how to pull loads will be interested in the following dates set by the Ohio Horse Pulling association for 1938 competition: The big event will be Oct. 2 at Troy when the world's championship will be determined. Other dates are Greenville, June 5; Tiffin, June 12; Lancaster, June 19; Goshen, Ind., June 26; Marion, June 30; Van Wert, July 4; Mt. Vernon, July 10; Wapakoneta, July 17; Columbus, July 24, and Norwalk, July 31. The boys' and girls' junior contest has been awarded to Lancaster on Oct. 12 with $700 in prize money.

McKECHNIE TO PROFIT

Bill McKechnie stands to profit handsomely if the Cincinnati Reds finish in the first division this season. McKechnie's contract calls for him to receive a bonus of $5,000 if the Reds finish fourth or better. McKechnie's straight salary of $25,000 per season is exceeded only by the stipends drawn by the pilots of the two New York clubs, Bill Terry and Joe McCarthy.

AKRON BOY SOUGHT

Five major league baseball clubs are bidding for the services of Jack Newton, 17-year-old Akron North high school star, who pitched two no-hit contests this season. Clubs which seek the youngster are the St. Louis Cardinals, the St. Louis Browns, the New York Yankees, the Chicago White Sox and the Cleveland Indians. Two of the clubs have offered to pay all the youngster's expenses through college if he will sign a contract.

TROJANS TO VIE WITH OHIO AND INDIANA TEAMS

COLUMBUS, June 2—(UP)—The University of Southern California track team, the favorite in both the IC4A and the National Collegiate championships, will appear here in a triangular meet June 11 with Ohio State and Indiana University.

The Southern California team will come to Columbus immediately after the IC4A games at Randall Island, N. Y., and will continue its training for the Collegiate on June 18.

The Southern California team was here last in 1936 when enroute east preparatory to final tests for the Olympic games.

ROOKIE HURLER HALTS DODGERS WITH FEW HITS

Ival Goodman Scores Freak Home Run; Ernie Koy Clouts, Too

CINCINNATI, June 2—(UP)—Two weeks ago Manager Bill McKechnie of Cincinnati pulled a surprise by starting a rookie southpaw, Johnny Vander Meer, against the National league champion New York Giants.

Vander Meer, who had pitched only 31 innings during the first month of the season, responded in grand style and set the Giants down with five hits to gain a well-earned 4 to 0 victory. That shut-out made the stocky left-hander a regular on the Reds staff and he has performed at a blazing pace ever since.

Vander Meer hung up his fourth triumph as against two losses yesterday when he hurled the Reds to a 4 to 1 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Vander Meer, working with the poise of a veteran and possessing great control, scattered five Brooklyn hits and missed a shut-out when Ernie Koy clouted a home run in the second inning.

With the exception of Koy, the Dodgers were a "soft touch" for Vander Meer. Koy collected three of the five hits credited to Brooklyn. Pete Coscarart and Forrest Presnell garnered the other two.

Presnell Weakens

For the five innings Presnell, a knuckle ball expert, matched the fine hurling of Vander Meer and at the end of that stretch the count was knotted at 1 to 1.

Cincinnati broke the deadlock in the sixth on singles by Ival Goodman and Ernie Lombardi, and a double by Harry Craft.

In the eighth Presnell retired for a pinch hitter and the Reds raked Vito Tamulis for two counters before Van Mungo was rushed in to quell the uprising.

One of the eighth inning runs came on a freak home run by Goodman. Koy, playing rightfield for the Dodgers, got his glove hand on the looping hit and dropped the ball as he fell over the bleacher railing to give Goodman the circuit drive.

The Reds garnered a total of 10 hits. Lombardi with three safeties and Goodman and Frank McCormick with two each led the parade.

The victory enabled Cincinnati to move within one game of the idle third place Boston Bees.

MEL HARDER HIT HARD AS MACKS WIN 9-5 SCRAP

PHILADELPHIA, June 2—(UP)—Ineffective pitching today had cost the Cleveland Indians an opportunity to stretch their American league lead and resulted in the club getting off to an inauspicious start on its second eastern road trip of the season.

The Indians were hammered into submission by a 9 to 5 count here yesterday by the sixth place Philadelphia Athletics.

Manager Oscar Vitt started the veteran Mel Harder in the box and the choice was an unhappy one. Harder was battered from the outset of the contest and in the two and one-third innings he lasted took one of the worst drubbings of his long career.

Before Harder could retire a batter in the first inning the Athletic filled the bases on successive singles by Wally Moses, Dick Seibert and Bill Werber. Frank Hayes popped out and then Bob Johnson slammed out a home run to give Philadelphia a lead it never lost.

King of Punch Throwers

HENRY ARMSTRONG, Negro battler who vanquished Barney Ross to gain a new title, is shown above in a characteristic pose.

Armstrong Meets Ambers On July 26; Card Filled

NEW YORK, June 2—(UP)—Henry Armstrong, welterweight and featherweight champion, will be a busy man from now on.

Just before his 15-round victory over Barney Ross on Tuesday night, Henry signed a contract with Promoter Mike Jacobs to fight exclusively for him for three years, it was revealed today.

His next assignment will come on July 26 when he meets Lou Ambers of Herkimer, N. Y., for the lightweight title, either at Yankee stadium or Madison Square Garden bowl.

The site will be decided after Ambers returns here following a fight next Tuesday in Los Angeles against Baby Arizmendi.

Should Armstrong defeat Ambers, it would mark the first time in history that any boxer ever held three crowns at one time. Bob Fitzsimmons held three championships, but not simultaneously. Armstrong's welter crown will not be at stake against Ambers, inasmuch as both have to scale in at the lightweight limit of 135 pounds. Any time Armstrong meets an opponent weighing more than 135 pounds, however, the welterweight title will be at stake.

Eddie Meade, his manager, said, "Armstrong will engage in championship fights only. Any time he goes, one of his titles will be at stake. Under no circumstances will he relinquish the featherweight title. He can make 126 pounds any time he has to."

Armstrong will leave for St. Louis next Tuesday to visit his sister and brothers. Then he returns to his Los Angeles home where the Chamber of Commerce is preparing a grand welcome. He will return to New York for the Louis-Schmeling heavyweight fight on June 22 and then go into training at Pompton Lakes, N. J., for the Ambers fight.

DAIRYMEN WIN 8 TO 6 FROM BRONZEVILLE 10

Early Lead Proves Enough After Jolliers Gain In Fifth Inning

Blue Ribbon Dairy softball players gained an 8-6 victory over the Bronzville Jolliers in a city recreation loop game Wednesday evening. The game was played on the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. field.

The Dairy crew staved off a late rally by the Negro lads to earn the victory. The Blue Ribbon boys held an 8-1 lead as the fifth frame started, but Charlie Davis cut that margin down by smashing a home run with the paths filled. He had the same opportunity in the sixth session but forced a runner for the last out.

Chuck Hill and Bob Jones pitched for the losers with Smith and Buskirk tossing for the winners. Tonight's game will be between the Eshelman Feeds and Gilt's food market.

MIKE COCHRANE OFFERS TRAILER FOR MOUNDSMAN

NEW YORK, June 2—(UP)—The "friendly field" between those pals of Connie Mack's great teams of 1929-30-31, Mickey Cochrane and Jimmy Dykes, was a horse of another color today.

Now rival managers of the Tigers and White Sox, Cochrane and Dykes are two of the keenest rivals in baseball—in a ball game, a trade or any battle of wits. Dykes drew first blood with his "city slicker sale" of Al Simmons to Cochrane for $75,000 two years ago. Dykes has laughed at Cochrane ever since.

But Dykes' laugh now is a little hollow. Cochrane finally has the upper hand. He has Vernon Kennedy, the eccentric pitcher whom Dykes traded to Detroit last winter with the belief that he was putting over a fast one. Cochrane gave Gerald Walker, Marvin Owen and Rookie Mike Tresh for Kennedy and Dixie Walker. A storm of disapproval broke over his head because Gerald Walker had been a Detroit hero.

When Kennedy was with the White Sox he has bitterly criticized for living in a trailer. Some critics said his wildness was the result of improper sleeping. Cochrane was asked yesterday, after Kennedy had hung up his eighth straight victory, whether his star still lives in a trailer.

"I don't know," replied Cochrane. "But if you can find me another guy who can pitch like Kennedy I'll buy him a trailer to live in."

GELBERT STARS AT PLATE, FIELD FOR TOLEDOANS

COLUMBUS, June 2—(UP)—Charley Gelbert, who had a brilliant major league career cut short by a hunting accident, today was making rapid strides along the comeback trail and serving as the sparkplug of the Toledo Mudhens in their drive toward the top of the American Association standing.

Gelbert, slowed up by the accident that resulted in a portion of his heel being shot away, was waived out of the majors last season after trials with Cincinnati and Detroit.

Manager Fred Haney of Toledo originally planned to use Gelbert at second base, but the veteran could not pivot double plays with sufficient speed and was shifted to third. Since the move was made Gelbert has played air-tight defensive ball and hit timely.

Gelbert slammed out two extra base hits, a double and a triple, last night as Toledo downed Minneapolis 8 to 5. The victory enabled the Mudhens to climb within one game of the third place Millers.

Ed Selway, the first of four pitchers Toledo used, was credited with the victory.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

USE YOUR VISION
POWER TO visualize your partner's possible holdings is an asset of telling value. Play of a certain card can sometimes bear fruit only if your associate holds some other particular card or cards. But figuring out such chances may point the only conceivable hope of beating the contract.

mond to ruff. On this trick West played his spade J, with the feeling that it was of little use to him and might by some slight chance set up a trick in his partner's hand. He was quite pleased when his partner later captured a trick with the spade Q, which would have fallen under North's top honors, had West not sacrificed his J.

Being able to win one trick in each suit, East-West managed to set South's 4-Spade contract.

North and South reached a contract of 4-Spades on this deal after an opening bid of 1-Spade by South, 2-Hearts by West, 2-Spades by North and 4-Spades by South. West cashed the diamond A, and for want of a better lead continued the suit. South won with the diamond K and immediately led a diamond to ruff.

What is the best defense by East-West against North's contract of 5-Diamonds?

COUNCIL HEARS DISCUSSION OF MEMORIAL HALL JANITOR PROBLEM

CITY OFFICIALS AWAIT ACTION ON INJUNCTION

Right of Monumental Assn. To Discharge Roby Up To Court

ATTORNEY AT MEETING

$60 Pay For Assistant Wins Approval

The Memorial hall janitor was the principal issue discussed by city council Wednesday evening. An ordinance appropriating $60 to pay the May salary of Claude Robinson, assistant janitor at the hall, was passed under suspension of rules. No action was taken by the city dads on a letter received from Ralph Ward, president of the trustees of the Monumental Assn., on the appointment of Mr. Robinson as regular janitor as of June 1 to replace Ralph Roby.

The letter from Mr. Ward, dated May 19, was written to council before an injunction action was filed in Common Pleas court restraining the trustees from interfering with the position of Mr. Roby, janitor at the hall for the last 22 years. Mr. Roby filed the action after he had been notified that his services would not be needed after June 1. A temporary injunction was allowed by Judge Phil A. Henderson last Thursday. Employed Oct. 1, 1916

Mr. Roby's action stated that he was employed on Oct. 1, 1916 under an ordinance of city council. It contends that the board of trustees has no authority over an employee of the city. Mr. Roby's letter of dismissal was sent to council for the confirmation of Robinson as janitor.

Atty. E. L. Crist, who filed the action for Mr. Roby, was a spectator in council Wednesday evening and was asked to explain the case to council.

He informed council that the city may be made a party in the action. Mr. Crist contended that he did not believe the trustees had the right to discharge Mr. Roby unless they showed cause and he questioned further their right to interfere with a city employee paid by council.

As a background to the case he said the trustees are selected annually by the Soldiers' Monumental Assn., comprised of veterans. It was his contention that the original purpose of the organization was to collect funds for the erection of Memorial hall. He believed the services of the group should have ended when the building was completed. He said trustees in charge

WAS 13 YEARS BEFORE SHE FOUND THE RIGHT MEDICINE

Never Misses an Opportunity to Tell Some Ailing Person What Ton Jon Has Done For Her.

Bess Stevenson, 732 North North, Washington C. H., Ohio, who is the press reporter for the Daughters of America, a member of a local church, also former nurse, speaks of what Ton Jon has done for her.

I am glad I found Ton Jon for I had almost given up hope. About four o'clock every day I would get an awful sharp pain that felt just like a knife being stuck in my chest and in the pit of my stomach. This pain would run through to my back. I just could not sleep, I would get up, massage myself and walk the floor all night.

I have been taking everything I could get in way of a laxative for thirteen years and I never did get rid of that pain. Every laxative I tried would wear out, then one day one of the clerks in the Hamilton and Ryan Drug Store seeing what a condition I was in told me about getting in a new medicine entirely different from anything they had ever had in any drug store before.

I bought a bottle, not expecting much relief, used it two days and that awful pain left me.

TON JON NO. 1 is a medicine that increases the activity of every organ of the body, thereby producing proper regular elimination for weak, nervous, rundown systems, that will make you eat better, sleep better, giving you a better feeling and AT THE SAME TIME INCREASING YOUR WEIGHT.

TON JON NO. 2 is not a REDUCING medicine but it does take the waist line down, removing the blot and other accumulation of waste that should be removed for health.

TON JON NO. 3 is a Kidney, Bladder, Prostate and Urinary medicine.

Sold by Hamilton & Ryan, Circleville, Ohio.

436 MIDSHIPMEN URGED TO LEARN WORLD'S TASKS

ANNAPOLIS, June 2—(UP)—President Roosevelt today called on U. S. naval academy graduates to equip themselves with a broad and thorough knowledge of American and world affairs to enable them to cope with modern problems.

The President's advice was contained in his graduation address to 436 midshipmen completing their four year course of study at the Annapolis institution.

Mr. Roosevelt's address was brief and did not touch on specific issues of national or international matters.

"You will never reach the top and stay at the top," Mr. Roosevelt told the students, "unless you are well-rounded in your knowledge of all the other factors in modern civilization that lie outside of your own special profession."

"That applies to all of world thought and world problems, but it applies, of course, with special emphasis to the thought and problems of our own nation."

gation in their headquarters in Miami.

3,200 Searching

All hope for the life of the five and a half year old child had all but vanished as an army of 3,200 civilians, including American Legionnaires and members of the Ku Klux Klan, took up again at dawn an inch-by-inch search of the tip of the Florida peninsula. Their objective was to find the baby alive or dead, and, if possible, to find the kidnapers.

G-men directed the searchers and G-men were questioning friends and neighbors of the child's father, prosperous owner of a chain of filling stations, who paid a $10,000 ransom without result early Monday.

The search that got under way at dawn was the biggest thing of its kind ever organized in Florida and probably in the United States. Spurred by a reward of $1,000 provisionally posted by the Dade county commissioners, and steered by the warning of Connelly, head of the Miami office of the G-men, that "we must be prepared to find this boy dead," the motley army of farmers, field workers, Everglade trappers, fishermen, and volunteers from Miami and the surrounding country, set out in a temper that boded no good for any person or persons to whom evidence pointed that they might find.

Against the possibility of mob violence, Governor Frederick P. Cone had authorized the use of national guardsmen and the military authorities were in a position to pour troops into the district quickly.

A flotilla of boats, assembled and manned overnight by the Marine Disaster Relief committee, set out to search the countless hidden bays and coves of the Florida keys which during prohibition were headquarters of rum-running gangs, and long before that were lairs for pirates of the Spanish main.

Swimmers in Action

Expert swimmers recruited and directed by State Fire Warden G. J. Stokes began diving in all inlets along the coast and in rock pits, searching for a body.

It was known that the G-men were all but certain that the child was kidnaped by a resident of this village of 600 or of the Redlands farming district of which Princeton is a center, and for this reason they placed great faith in the ransom bills leading to the criminal. They believed that the kidnapers, unsophisticated and amateur criminals, would stupidly aid their own capture by spending the money at once.

The G-men still questioned M. F. Braxton, 55, who lives near the Cash home, and his son, J. W. Braxton, who works on fishing boats. Braxton was arrested yesterday and his son was taken last night. Braxton, a heavy-set, florid-faced carpenter, knows the kidnaped baby's father well. The identity of the third suspect was not known definitely, but the Miami Herald said today that he was Willard E. Campbell, a man well known in Miami who had been charged during prohibition with rum-running and who was recently arrested for alleged participation in a plot to run guns into a Central American country.

Shoe Box Found

The G-men themselves found the shoe box in which Cash had packed the ransom of $2,430 in $5 bills, $4,790 in $10 bills, $2,100 in $20 bills, and $500 in $50 bills, and in which he had turned it over to the kidnapers. It was in a field adjoining the road where the kidnapers stopped Cash's car. Nearby were the prints of automobile tires. Casts of the prints were taken and the box was examined for finger prints.

The G-men were spurred by the fact that their last three cases before the present one—those of Charles Mattson, 10, and Peter Levine, 12, who were murdered by their abductors, and of Mrs. Alice Parsons, the Long Island matron who has never been found—still are unsolved.

In addition to the ransom bills and the inch-by-inch search, they had strong circumstantial evidence that the crime was committed by local men, and, on that basis, they were ascertaining whether any resident had disappeared since Monday when the ransom was paid.

The circumstantial case was this:

Cash was the only resident of Princeton who could have paid a $10,000 ransom and the sum the kidnapers asked approximately the total of his ready cash. The kidnapers were familiar with the routine of the Cash household and knew thoroughly the exterior and interior layout of the frame apartment house which also houses his store and filling station. Strangers would have had to devote some time to getting this information, and would have been noted in this village. The map drawn on the back of the ransom note showed an intimate knowledge of the countryside.

YOUR OIL FREE (UP TO THE FULL MARK)
IF I FORGET TO CHECK IT

NOT 25¢ - NOT 25¢ - 25¢ A QUART (PLUS TAX)

IF YOU'RE out of oil, you're out of luck. Almost anything can happen to your engine. Pistons may scuff—cylinder walls "score"—bearings burn out.

You don't want to run out of oil. So get in on this proposition we Shell dealers listed below are making:

Drive into any one of our stations. If we don't check your oil without being told, we'll bring your oil level up to the full mark free.

And we'll do this with the oil that's made especially for today's stop-and-go driving—our Golden Shell Oil.

Maybe you never knew that stop and go calls for a certain kind of oil. Well, it does—and here's why:

You average ten cold starts a day. If your oil is slow-flowing, one start can cause as much wear as 50 miles of steady running.

Golden Shell changes this. It's fast-flowing. The second you step on your starter, it coats each engine part with a tough oil film that doesn't break down... even under the heat of your steady running. In fact—

There's no finer oil at any price than Golden Shell.

SENATE SPEEDS RECOVERY BILL

Leaders Hope For Ballot
On President's Big Measure

WASHINGTON, June 2—(UP)—Leaders hope to get President Roosevelt's recovery bill through the senate today. Prospects were that the bill when passed will carry authorizations and appropriations exceeding $3,600,000,000.

In a 10 hour session that adjourned at 9:27 p. m., Wednesday, total funds provided in the bill were boosted to $3,322,000,000 by a vote to increase a $25,000,000 senate committee authorization for the Rural Electrification administration to $100,000,000.

Another $300,000,000 may be added to it today when Sen. Robert F. Wagner, D. N. Y., offers the housing bill as an amendment. This proposal, requested by Mr. Roosevelt in his recovery message, was made a separate bill in the house. Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, D. Ky., called the senate into session an hour early again today in an effort to obtain final approval of the recovery measure. He plans to convene early and to keep the senators working late until the bill is passed.

Fights over power, administration of relief, and earmarking of funds remained unsettled. All committee amendments except one had been acted on when the proposal of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D. Ga., to appropriate $212,000,000 for parity price payments to cotton, wheat, corn, rice and tobacco was adopted.

Council Delays Discussion Of Abbreviated Finances

Councilmen gave no consideration Wednesday evening to the city's financial problem looming for the Summer months.

Indications are that the city will not have sufficient money in the general fund to operate until Fall. Council's finance committee discussed the problem with other city officials recently but arrived at no definite method of cutting expenses.

The committee planned to submit the problem to council. Ben Gordon, chairman of council's finance committee, said he expected to let the question "rest for another two weeks." Council's next meeting will be held in two weeks.

The city's financial report as of June 1, presented in council by Mr. Gordon, was: general fund $7,066.97, library $10,090.81, auto street repair $3,735.07, disposal plant $65,571.43, gasoline tax $50.70 and hospital $1,803.50, or a total of $88,279.48.

Karl Herrmann, safety director, reported collections at Berger hospital for May amounted to $1,365.63. Collections of Mayor W. B. Cady included $111 in fines, $7 in licenses, $26.10 in fees and $169 on bonds, a total of $313.10.

Wheat Crop To Provide New Record

1915 Mark To Be Passed;
1,077,000,000 Bushels
To Be Harvested

CHICAGO, June 2—(UP)—Private crop experts today forecast for 1938 the largest U. S. wheat crop ever harvested, the average estimate being 1,077,000,000 bushels as compared with the previous record crop of 1,009,000,000 bushels in 1915.

Favorable crop weather in the last month resulted in an increase of 67,000,000 bushels in the average estimate of the Winter wheat crop, which the experts today placed at 810,000,000 bushels as compared with their own average estimate one month ago of 743,000,000 bushels.

Today's forecast on Winter wheat production of approximately 820,000,000 bushels in 1931, and exceeds the government estimate of last month by 56,000,000 bushels.

Farm-Aid Program Drawn by Wallace

WASHINGTON June 2—(UP)—Department of agriculture officials prepared today for a gigantic farm-aid program to bolster the purchasing power of 6,000,000 farmers.

Tentative plans drawn by aides of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, presumably at his direction, call for a federal lending-purchasing farm program involving $1,300,000,000 to $1,400,000,000 in the next 12 months.

Direct aid to farmers in soil conservation payments rural relief, purchase of surpluses, subsidy and parity payments to be either obligated or paid in the next year, will total approximately $1,000,000,000.

In addition, government agencies expect to lend farmers up to $350,000,000 for storage of surplus wheat, cotton and corn. The farm security administration plans to loan farmers approximately $100,000,000 to make crops and buy farms.

Three factors influenced the department in planning the most comprehensive farm program ever undertaken by the government:

1. Prospects of another bumper crop, added to huge surpluses from last year.
2. A drop of nearly one-third in market prices of farm products during the past year.
3. The decline of farm purchasing power to 74 percent of pre-war.

BRITAIN VICTOR IN EFFORTS FOR CIVIL WAR END

LONDON, June 2—(UP)—Great Britain won the first important move in efforts to arrange an Armistice in the Spanish civil war today when Soviet Russia withdrew objections to the British plan for evacuation of foreign volunteers.

The Soviet, which had been holding up the plan, agreed to accept the method of counting volunteers, a division of the volunteers into four main categories and the restoration of land and sea control of the Spanish frontier.

Russia's acceptance of the non-intervention committee plan was announced after it was learned that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain intended to go beyond the scope of the committee's work because he was not satisfied with its relatively negative efforts.

STORM DEPLETES POSSES

Army Of 3,200 Helping Hunt
Five Year Old Child

PRINCETON, Fla., June 2—(UP)—Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation arrived in Florida today to take personal command of the hunt for the kidnapers of five year old Jimmy Cash.

PRINCETON, Fla., June 2—(UP)—A heavy Summer rain-storm broke over the Florida Everglades today, beating out possible clues in the kidnaping of five-year-old Jimmy Cash and hampering the search of a posse that has grown to number 3,500.

A corps of G-men, led by Inspector E. J. Connelly, believe however that greed of the kidnapers or desperate need for money to make a getaway may lead them to attempt to pass some of the $10,000 ransom paid by James B. Cash, Sr., father of the abducted baby.

Printed and mimeographed lists of serial numbers of the "hot money" appeared on almost every cash register and on the desk of every bank teller in Florida this morning. It seemed unlikely that anyone of the ransom bills could be cashed without quick recognition.

Posse To Be Depleted

The rainfall added seriously to the difficulties of searchers in the swampy southern Florida Everglades and J. Fritz Gordon, Miami attorney who organized plans for the search, said his force of possmen will be depleted.

Five days after the boy was abducted from his bedroom, only his parents were convinced he still is alive. Cash and his wife were in complete seclusion at their home, but W. P. Cash, an uncle of the boy, said they still believe the kidnapers may surrender their son safely.

After being near prostration at abduction of her only child, Mrs. Cash was resting under sedatives, the uncle said.

Although reduced in scope, the search proceeded under a closely-coordinated plan. Legionnaires and other veterans, W. P. A. and C. C. C. workers, farmers, fishermen and trappers beat through the scrub oak and palmetto.

A fleet of radio-equipped police cars from Miami and Miami Beach cruised along the highways in the region, helping coordinate the search by radio.

As the forenoon advanced, the rainfall grew heavier and searching parties gradually dwindled. Reports, without confirmation because of official secrecy, circulated that the G-men were near a solution. They had questioned over 30 men and were subjecting at least three to an intensive interrogation. (Continued on Page Ten)

EVELYN SWINGS OUT IN "NICE WORK" AS ROYAL FAMILY, OTHERS LISTEN

LONDON, June 2.—(UP)—Evelyn Dall, a 20-year-old ash-blond American singer, made history last night at Buckingham palace when she sang "Nice Work If You Can Get It" to King George and Queen Elizabeth, other members of the royal family, and 1,000 guests.

The occasion was the Royal Derby night ball in the white and gold ballroom of Buckingham palace. Among the guests were United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Peter Beatty, owner of Bois Roussel, who won the 159th running of the derby yesterday.

Evelyn "swung it" in typical American fashion. The ball was considered one of the most informal ever held at Buckingham palace. Her other songs were, "Some Day My Prince Will Come."

STYLE BLENDED IN VIEUX CARRE OLD BUILDINGS

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — New Orleans' famous French and Spanish architecture is neither French nor Spanish—it's local.

So said Paul Philippe Cret, of Philadelphia, recently awarded the gold medal of the American Institute of Architects at their convention here.

In the opinion of Cret, a native of France, the famed old buildings of the city's Vieux Carre are a product of the evolution of Spanish and French culture.

"Some buildings have pure French architecture in the front main buildings and yet their patios are pure Spanish," Cret said.

Cret, professor for 35 years at the University of California, deplored the rapid demolition of the

Oil Fortune Heir to Fly World After Specimens

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 2—(UP)—The world's largest privately owned airplane—a 14-ton consolidated aircraft—was ready today for a flight halfway around the world to collect specimens for the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

This afternoon, Richard Archbold, 30, heir to a Standard Oil fortune, will lift his big craft off the San Diego harbor and head out over the Pacific toward Honolulu.

The big plane, with its crew of six, is expected to complete in 18 hours the first leg of the flight of more than 6,284 nautical miles. The entire flight to Hollandia, on the north-eastern coast of Dutch Guinea, is expected to require about 47 hours flying time.

To Pioneer Airplane
In addition to the stop at Honolulu, Archbold plans to land also at Wake Island. If weather conditions are satisfactory, Archbold will fly from there directly to New Guinea, pioneering a new air route over 2,018 miles of the Pacific.

Should weather conditions be adverse, Archbold will fly from Wake to Guam, and then head for New Guinea, again traversing an area no airplane ever has flown.

For the journey of New Guinea, Archbold and his companions will use the big plane to transport supplies to a ground party of the American Museum of Natural History. Archbold is a research associate of the museum and an expert mammalogist.

A base will be established on Lake Habbema. From this base city's ancient buildings to make room for the new, and said Oldenians could do much to preserve their old landmarks. Many other cities have already completed the construction and there is nothing there to preserve, he said.

NEWS AND NOTES

The script has been completed at Twentieth Century-Fox for Eddie Cantor's next picture, "What The Public Wants." No definite starting date has been set, but the picture undoubtedly will not get under way until his airshow recesses for the Summer. . . . Author Don Quinn of "Fibber McGee and Molly" planning look-see late this month at new home he built in California. . . . You wouldn't believe it to look at his somewhat staid exterior, but Meredith Willson is one of the wise-crackingest orchestra leaders on radio—will match quips with anybody and most of the spirited ad-libbing on "Good News" is started by him. . . . Nora Cunneen of Station E-Z-R-A and the "National Barn Dance," staged a birthday party for her mother this week. . . . When Jan Garber's orchestra checks off the Burns and Allen airshow on July 4, Jan is planning a flying trip to Chicago to watch the Cubs in their pennant battle. . . . Edith Davis of "Betty and Bob" says she is so old fashioned she doesn't think a girl should propose to a man—except as a last resort. . . .

Jim Ameche, "Attorney At Law" and one of radio's most rabid automobile fans, spent most of Decoration Day ducking between rehearsals and a spot where he could hear the Indianapolis races broadcast. . . . George Burns having finally impressed her with the fact that there are no trains to Hawaii, Gracie Allen has agreed to take a boat when the couple sail on their vacation in August. One minor complication still faces George, however. Gracie won't settle for anything less than the Queen Mary or Normandie, which as a rule, only sail to Europe. . . .

BOOKS IN SOUND OFFERED BLIND

PASADENA, Cal., June 2—(UP)—A W.P.A. project which places in the hands of the blind the world's best literature that can be heard instead of having to be slowly read out by the Braille system is meeting with great success in Southern California.

At present more than 500 of the phonograph-like machines are in use in the immediate vicinity here, while the library of electrically transcribed records is increasing daily.

These records embrace not only entire novels, but excerpts from others, Biblical lessons, essays, plays and biographies but also dramatized versions of many pieces of literature that can best be presented in that form.

Time Is Conserved
These records are supplied by the state library and the Braille Institute. They enable the blind to continue many little occupations while listening to classic literature instead of being obliged to read it with their fingers from the Braille page.

Novels are dramatically read on these records and often whole plays are enacted. Robert L. Stevenson's "Treasure Island," for example, runs to 12 records. Zane Grey's "Riders of the Purple Sage" is 17 records long while his "The U. P. Trail" runs to 23 twelve-inch records.

There are educational talks like one by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, of the California Institute of Technology on "Science and the New Civilization," combined with one by Gamaliel Bradford on "American Portraits," in a series of 17 records.

Service Is Free
Blind users of the "books," of which 500 have been allotted to California, order the records from a mimeographed list several pages long. The records are sent out and are returnable free of charge. Among other best sellers, "Gone With the Wind," are being transcribed. It will require 40 records. The machines are so arranged that if the blind desire so, they can use ear phones. Their two great advantages consist in relieving the blind of the monotony of constant finger reading and also of permitting them to keep up some line of work with their hands while listening.

TOWNSEND SAYS HIS BACKERS TO ACT IN ELECTION

Aged Pension Leader Goes Before Ohio Solons To Ask Support

RATIFICATION URGED

800 Supporters In Gallery Cheer Address

COLUMBUS, June 2—(UP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, leader of the revolving old age pension plan, was on record today with the promise that the Townsend forces will again campaign actively in the Ohio congressional contests this year.

In an interview with newspapermen following addresses to the house of representatives and the senate taxation and relief committee, Dr. Townsend said the organization would endorse candidates favorable to the pension plan. The 71-year-old physician was given a tumultuous ovation by an estimated 800 enthusiastic supporters when he addressed the senate committee.

He spoke in support of a resolution asking Congress to submit for ratification constitutional amendment embodying essentials of his plan. The scheme calls for payment of a $200 monthly pension to all persons over 60, to be financed by a two percent transaction tax.

Sen. Bernard J. McCheskey, D., Cuyahoga, author of the senate resolution and Sen. John F. Myers, D., Stark, vied with each other in showing Dr. Townsend about the capitol. His followers flocked about him in the legislative halls seeking to shake his hand.

During his address Dr. Townsend said the present economic system must be changed even if it requires a "bloody revolution." Later he explained that he did not advocate such methods but meant only to leave the impression that disastrous events would occur unless changes were made.

Lorre, internationally known character actor, plays the famous Japanese detective of J. P. Marquand Saturday Evening Post stories. But as a Japanese detective the Hungarian star has to disguise himself as an Armenian rug peddler, not as a Hungarian, but as a Hungarian impersonating a Japanese would impersonate an Armenian.

THE QUINTS GO HOME

THE famous Dionne family at Callander, Ont., at last are going to be all under one roof, just as Pere and Mere Dionne have insisted all along. Just one great, big, happy family—perhaps! The world will hold its breath and hope for the best, as the grand new house is built and the parents and quintuplets and elder and younger brothers and sisters all move in. Possibly the quints can stand it now. But it will be a struggle, with Papa and Mama picking the nurses and teachers. And good old Dr. Dafoe will pay a high price for family unity.

Thanks to the doctor, aided by a paternal government, those five little girls have earned their own living, paid for their luxurious mode of life and accumulated a fortune, and are taking good care of their parents. They still deserve a reasonable amount of letting alone.

It is natural that the simple-minded, uncultured parents should be jealous. They cannot understand such things as hygiene, guardianship, trust funds for their children and state responsibility for their upbringing. It is necessary to compromise.

In a way, the Dionne parents will still be fighting a losing battle, and not alone. Society everywhere in civilized lands exerts more and more jurisdiction over the rearing of children, whether multiple or single. And it must be so, for the good of all.

A SHIP FOR PEACE

ANOTHER luxury steamship bidding for American tourist patronage this summer will enter the regular transatlantic service with its appearance in New York harbor on June 13. This is the Oslofjord, new flagship of the Norwegian-America line. On the Scandinavian end of her voyage, the ship will dock only a few minutes away from the Also Exhibition ground, where a fair will depict for visitors the scenic, social and economic beauties and achievements of Norway and its neighbors.

The most interesting thing about the vessel is that it has been designed and built with no thought of its possible quick conversion to wartime purposes. Many big liners are justified by their builders because of their value as troop ships during a foreign war. The fate is not contemplated for the Oslofjord. Norway has not been involved as a belligerent in war for more than 100 years and believes that it has learned how to keep peace with the world.

Ours is supposedly a peaceful land, too, but our history shows a war of one sort or another every generation since the Revolution.

A woman protests that "darling" is used too much nowadays, and another woman says that's O. K. because "it's such a darling of a word."

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:
Up at the usual hour and soon about the ville, being halted first at the Circleville Savings and Banking Co. where Miriam Wesver, a high school junior, has an interesting art display. Miriam has painted in life size—or what really did live—the Seven Dwarfs and Snow White. That girl has real talent. The display still is at the bank and is worth seeing.

Now that Memorial Day is past again, I am firmer than ever in my conviction that on this day we give too much thought to those yet to be legally murdered. Maybe I was right about that quail after all. Neighbor H. W. Plum says he has seen quail in our neighborhood. Bill Reid said what I heard one morning was not a quail at all, but a starling. Starlings, he declares are great imitators. Me, I don't know what it was, for I didn't see it. And, liking both H. W. and Bill, I will give over one day to believing it was a quail and another to certainty that it was a starling.

Met Mrs. Harry Stevenson, she being here for a visit from Cincinnati where she is learning to become a beautician. "Get up on the rooftops, scrivener, and shout to the world that a town such as ours is better than a city any time of day," she said. Noted that the Circle theatre is closed. Chatted with Henry Mader, who now will devote all his time to his potato chip plant. Dropped in on Lawrence Goeller at his factory and found him deep in a manufacturing problem. Learned that Harry Gordon and wife will be in the ville Saturday, enroute from their home in Parkersburg, W. Va., to their Summer camp at Eagle's Nest, Ontario.

There goes Bill Radcliff, bar-rist and mayor of Williamsport, who is being boosted all over the district as a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress. Bill so far has refused to say yes or no. And there goes Bob Immell, who has entered the lists on the Democratic side. Maybe we will have a warm campaign after all, for already some folk are talking politics.

Here it is, the end of the school term again. And how happy are most of the kids. I remember what a sigh of relief I heaved when each school year ended and I had in my possession a card reporting that I had been advanced to another grade. Whether or not I would move always was a deep mystery to me until school authorities provided the solution. I think at that that some of the teachers passed me to get rid of me, for I was a restless youngster all during the fine Spring weather.

BASE TO BE PROPOSED

WASHINGTON—You can look for some spectacular moves to cement Pan-American relations when and if the President takes his trip down the West Coast of South America this summer.

Undoubtedly the chief reasons for Roosevelt's sea jaunt would be that he loves a good sea voyage and long has wanted to have a look at Chile, Peru, Ecuador and Colombia on the Pacific Coast of the Continent.

However, when the President takes a trip of this kind he likes to have some excuse for going, and the general excuse will be further cementing of neighborly relations between the United States and South America at a time when war threatens in Europe.

So it should cause no surprise if the President proposes a Pan-American naval base or bases to be used by the nations of this hemisphere in case of European war. With this proposal would go a plan for Pan-American naval cooperation.

Chief value of such a base, of course, would be to the United States. It would give this country an excuse to keep ships in South American waters without appearing to impose on good neighborly relations.

The possibility of sending ships to aid Brazil has been in the back of some official minds in case that country is menaced by another fascist revolt. In fact, it is already known that such aid would not be unwelcome to Brazil, which has always had close naval cooperation with the United States.

Moreover, when the United States Fleet steams to New York for the World's Fair next year, certain important Cabinet members would like to see part of it remain permanently in Atlantic waters in order to be on hand in case of Fascist or Nazi flare-ups among our neighbors.

NOTE—The admirals are inclined to discount Mayor LaGuardia's influence upon the President regarding the Fleet's visit to New York. They attribute its shift to a desire to impress Germany and Italy with U. S. naval strength in the Atlantic.

HAGUE AND MRS. ROOSEVELT

A reporter at her press conference asked Mrs. Roosevelt how she would explain to a "man from Mars, Mayor Hague's flouting of the Constitution."

"That would be extremely difficult," replied Mrs. Roosevelt.

SPANISH EMBARGO

When Senator Nye of North Dakota introduced his resolution to lift the arms embargo against Spain, not many people realized the political risk he took. Nye is up for re-election this year, facing a primary fight with Republican Governor Bill Langer, a Catholic. As a result of Nye's Spanish resolution, Catholic sentiment in his State is strong against him.

Nye, himself, realized the risk he took, in fact had before him the example of Representative Hildebrandt of South Dakota, who was defeated in the Senatorial primary partly because of Catholic resentment at his signing a greeting to the Cortes (Congress) of Spain.

Catholic opposition to Hildebrandt followed a telegram sent by Bishop Bernard Joseph Mahoney of South Dakota denouncing him for sending the greeting to the Cortes.

What Can Be Done to Aid Damaged Liver

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
AFTER I discussed the newer methods of assessing liver damage last week, I was asked what could be done to put a damaged liver back into condition.

We are able now by physiological tests to recognize quite minute amounts of liver damage. And by proper management much can be done to restore a liver to full function.

The liver is, of all internal organs in the body, the one which is able best to regenerate its own cells. When the heart or the brain or the kidneys lose a cell or a group of cells, the defect is filled in with scar tissue and the destroyed cells are forever out. This is not so in the case of the liver, because we can get along with about one-third the kidney substance we normally own.

The liver, however, regenerates its own functioning cells, and even if a lobule is destroyed, it is possible to replace it. As with the kidney, only a part of the liver need function at any one time.

But with widespread liver damage, it is worth while trying to replace the damaged cells. Feeding sugar and simple sweets is one way to do this. The liver responds to glucose and thrives on it.

Salt Valuable
Salt is also a valuable food to assist the liver to regenerate.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Several years ago Dr. Rowntree advocated salt and sugar for cirrhosis, and believed that even in that serious condition considerable regeneration occurred.

The elimination of poisons which are absorbed and damage the liver is naturally fundamental. These poisons are absorbed from the intestines, because practically all the contents of the intestines which are absorbed into the blood stream go first to the liver. Among the common poisons, alcohol comes in for most of the blame. Although some doubts have been thrown on this idea, most physicians at the bedside believe that alcohol does a great deal of liver damage, and certainly anyone who has evidence that his liver function is diminished should give up its use indefinitely.

Besides this, it may be possible to reduce the amount of intestinal poisons by the use of acidophilus milk or ordinary brewer's yeast in substantial amounts.

Concentrated liver extract and Vitamins B and C also seem to have a stimulating effect on the liver. They can be taken twice a week. This regimen should continue for at least three months.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

READ THIS FIRST:

Entranced by the southwest country, and in love with a foolproof Texan, Ellen Dale, Hollywood screen star, has just decided to purchase an Arizona ranch and forsake her film career. A few days at the ranch of the wealthy Mexican Montoya family, which extended its hospitality to Ellen and Bill after a lucky parachute jump from Baron's plane during a storm, had given both the young actress and the Texan a new viewpoint on life. At Nogales, where Bill had driven Ellen to return to Hollywood, she makes her new decision and asks him to manage the ranch she plans to buy. He accepts but is hesitant to speak of his love for her because of his position and her wealth. They drive the type of ranch they desire in the vast Durango property, 6,000 neglected acres in a beautiful Arizona setting. Back in Nogales to buy the Durango ranch, Bill is disappointed when Ellen tells him she is dining with Felix Montoya, son of their recent host. At a night club where Bill dines alone, an attractive entertainer urges him to dance with her. He is chagrined when Ellen, who happens to be there with Felix, sees them dancing.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 22
BILL WENT to bed that night feeling like a fool and promising himself he would resign his job tomorrow morning and go back to Texas. Sleep, however, worked its miracle again and the morning found him comparatively sane. Dressing, he was able to grin wryly at himself in the mirror. Nevertheless he dreaded meeting Ellen Dale.

He was out in the patio at seven o'clock to get a breath of air before breakfast, and he ambled over to the waterfall and pool. It was still a trifle dark in the patio, the sun not having topped the mountains yet, but a morning light added glints of silver to the stream whose plunging song was so much a part of living here. Bill watched the beauty of it for a long moment, staring up at the great boulder. All at once a strange noise broke his reverie.

"SQUONK-N-NK! SQUONK-squonk-squonk!"
It reverberated through the patio, echoing loudly above the water's splash. The hotel cook peeped out of his door instantly. The bullfight was coming.

"El Conquistador!" he cried. Then seeing Bill, "Good morning, sir."

"Morning. Out early, isn't he?" They chatted a moment, and Bill drifted around the pool to look for the great bullfight, finally discovering him flattened on a rock. Bill backed away lest he disturb the triad patriarch.

The frog's noise awoke Ellen Dale also. It was so strange a sound that she could not identify it, especially in the fog of wakening. Her shade was up and she looked out. There stood Bill Baron.

"I must get up," she told herself at once, forgetting entirely the noise that had awakened her. She doused her face with cold water and in a moment discovered that she was feeling fine. She knew that she had only to touch a button at her side if a maid would come. But she didn't need a maid, or want one.

Not at all sure what to expect today, she dressed in outdoor clothes which she had purchased. These included a red mannish shirt, a jacket made from an Indian-woven serape of blue and red and black designs, and some genuine "levis" or denim pants such as cowboys wear. On her head she wore a red bandana tied peasant fashion, revealing just enough of her blond curls.

"Hello! Good morning!" Bill greeted her, rising. "I have just ordered. Will you join me?"

She slipped into the chair he held for her, without a word, but smiling prettily. In that moment Mr. William Baron knew that his stern intentions were all shot to pieces again. He had been promising himself to be strictly businesslike with Ellen Dale hereafter, but when Ellen turned the full power of her ingenuite smile—

The six or eight early diners all were talking, and one elderly lady leaned over to address Ellen.

"Did you hear the frog, my dear? He must be very eccentric. He was croaking positively at day-break!"

"Oh!" cried Ellen. "Was that—that El Conquistador?"

"Yes! Isn't his voice terrible? He—"

Ellen heard no more. She looked instantly at Bill, and turned so gloriously pink that even Bill noticed it.

"You're a little flushed, Ellen," he said, solicitously. "Do you feel well? Or did you over-do yesterday? Sometimes, a change to that altitude is a little taxing at first."

"No, thank you. I'm quite all right. In fact I feel especially fine. Don't you just love it here? The crisp mountain air, dry and invigorating? I'm starving."

Neither mentioned the little episode on the dance floor at El Tecolote last night. (Nor was it every mentioned between them, in all the remainder of their lives.)

A hotel clerk came to her table then and gave her four telegrams. They were all from Sid Bromberg, demanding to know where she was, when she would return to Hollywood, what her plans were. One was to the hotel manager himself, making similar demands.

Ellen smiled sweetly, showing Bill the yellow sheets.

"Answer him, please," she instructed the clerk, "saying that I have gone. Gone to—Australia. Or somewhere."

"Yes, miss," the clerk bowed away, smiling.

She had been at the hotel under her real name—Ellen Daggs. So far only she and Bill and the clerks knew she was Ellen Dale. She liked to stay incognito; it kept pests away. But it was too much to hope for, really.

When Bill had gone to look up their lawyer to complete inspection of the Durango land deals, Ellen walked downtown. She came out of a small department store, and two young men saw her. They stared, and talked, not rudely but with interest. She was used to such things at home, but she hadn't experienced it before down in the border country.

"Pardon me," one of the young men said, approaching her, "but I'm a newspaper man. The Phoenix Evening Gazette, m'am. Aren't you Ellen Dale?"

She couldn't say no. Her face was on every screen in America, from time to time. Even now it was plastered on a billboard down the street, six feet high. Ellen Dale in "Sweet Sixteen". She just smiled at him wanly, and waited.

The interview was pleasant enough. The other young fellow was a Nogales Herald man. A correspondent and a reporter walking about town. She hadn't a chance. Graciously, she walked with them two blocks to the Herald office, where the staff quit work ostensibly to watch a photographer pose Ellen, really to enjoy her fresh beauty. Not many Joe's mail was almost 100 percent beach ballyhoo and mountain resort propaganda.

Joe and Mrs. Joe read and looked at the pictures of them all. And then a terrible thing happened. They couldn't make up their minds where to go!

The agent must have tipped off other agents for, from then on,

When she went back to her hotel room, Felix Montoya wanted her to riding, but at that moment the salesman arrived with the sedan Bill had ordered. It was so pretty that she was quite excited about it, and when she gave the salesman a check in full, he almost made a nuisance of himself thanking her and offering to show her how to drive. As an extra touch, genuine cow horns had been mounted for a radiator ornament.

She took Felix out for a 20-mile spin, but she did not answer his inquiry about the smart "cattle brand" on her car, the DD on cowhide. She didn't know herself, really, but she pretended it was a secret. She wanted to ask Bill.

She left Felix then, pretending a headache, and spent the remainder of the day in her room studying a book of architect's plans and impatiently waiting for Bill to call. Felix sent flowers to her room, but discreetly did not annoy her. At 5 p. m. a maid came with a note from him, apologizing and saying he had to return to Sonora that afternoon, and hoping to see her again soon.

About 5:30 her telephone rang. "A party is waiting to see you in the lobby, Miss Daggs," the hotel clerk said. "Shall I ask him to wait, or would you prefer—?"

For no good reason—save that she had been wanting it so—she jumped to the conclusion that it was Bill.

"Tell him to wait by all means, please."

She had taken off her outdoor clothes and had been lounging in negligee. Now she dressed rapidly singing a little and fluttering around like a high school girl with her first dance date. When she was done she was lovely in a blue, frilly thing.

She cut across a corner of the patio because it was closer—throwing a quick kiss at El Conquistador en route—and entered the great lobby of her hotel. At once her caller came to greet her, beaming expansively. Her heart sank a little; it was not Bill. He was holding a newspaper.

"Miss Dale!" he boomed. "Nogales welcomes you! I am pleased to make your acquaintance. My name is Oscar Parker, and I'm president of the chamber of commerce here. The directors voted this afternoon to honor you with a big banquet day after tomorrow night! Will that be O. K.?"

Girl Graduates Guests At Lovely Dinner Party

Business Women Entertain at Parish House

Colorful bouquets of garden flowers with red roses predominating formed the effective decorations in the parish house of St. Philip's church, Wednesday evening, when the Business and Professional Women's club entertained the girl graduates of Circleville high school at a banquet. The affair conformed to a custom of long standing.

Masses of flowers were in the deep recesses of the windows and across the front of the stage where the program was presented after the dinner hour. Four tables were arranged parallel down the length of the room with the speakers table across the end. Bowls of roses centered the tables which were lighted with tall blue candles in matching holders. Attractive favors of miniature baskets of green and silver filled with candy flowers were at each place. The traditional place cards of the club were used on this occasion.

The youthful beauty of the 34 girls in their dainty formals of all hues added the crowning touch to the setting for the affair.

Miss Charlotte McEwing served as toastmistress in the absence of Mrs. H. B. Given, and welcomed the guests. Miss Harriet Harman of the graduates responded for her classmates. Miss McEwing then spoke of the program as a departure from the usual procedure saying that it would be streamlined, comprised entirely of music, with no set address.

Miss Ethyl May was introduced and opened the musical evening with a piano solo, "Sunrise" by De Leone. Miss May and Miss Dorothy Glick played a duet, "Marche Militaire," by Schubert for the second number.

Miss Eleanor Snyder, with Miss Abbe Mills Clarke as her accompanist, sang three selections, "Serenade to the Stars" from "Mad About Music", "Gavotte" from Mignon, finishing with the ever welcome, "When I have sung my Songs" by Ernest Charles. The delightful affair was enjoyed by 56 club members and guests.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

WHEN PLANTING a tree about the home grounds, consideration should be given to the factor of whether the tree is to be purely ornamental or whether its purpose is to furnish shade, and whether it is to stand alone or to have shrubs planted beneath it.

Figure 1 of this Garden-Graph shows a type of tree such as the English beech, purple beech, Japanese maple, black gum and European linden, the lower branches of which should never be trimmed off. With this type of tree the lower limbs should be allowed to grow naturally for the beauty of the tree lies in an effective spread of the lower limbs.

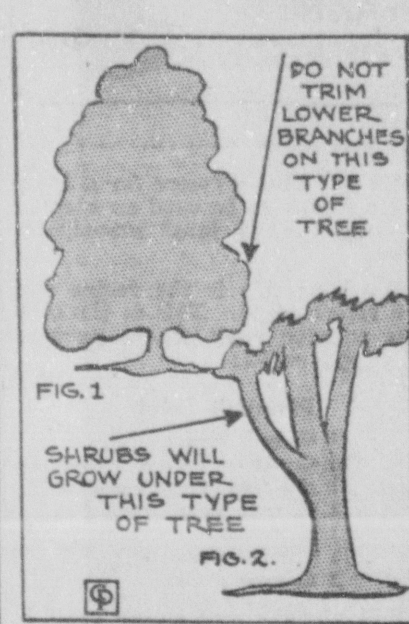

Figure 2 shows a high branching type of tree such as the elm. With lower limbs pruned off as the tree grows, this eventually makes an ideal shade tree and one under which shrubs can be grown.

There are also other trees whose lower branches should never be removed because of the beauty of the foliage, or flowers and fruits they bear.

CLOSED CONFAB CALLED TO AIR AID PROBLEMS

Uible Invites Spokesmen For Various Interested Groups To Conference

WELFARE BILL APPROVED

Loans of $2,000,000 May Be Made To Big Cities

COLUMBUS, June 2—(UP)—Hopeful that a preliminary open conference "cleared the dust," House Speaker Frank R. Uible today called a closed meeting of spokesmen for numerous private and public groups in an attempt to arrive at an agreed solution for perhaps the most baffling relief problem yet to confront the legislature.

Without reaching an agreement the conferees argued for three hours last night over the amount needed to finance relief for the rest of the year, methods for raising money, and how the funds should be distributed.

No program had general support, but Uible said he thought further round table talks might prove effective. He expressed hope that progress would be made in a closed meeting this morning of a smaller number of spokesmen for the same interests.

Many in Conference

The conferees included representatives and senators, spokesmen for Governor Davey, and officials of such groups as the League of Ohio Municipalities, the Ohio Education Association, the chamber of commerce, the Interorganization Conference, the Ohio Farm Bureau and Grange and organized labor.

In the meantime house leadership remained undecided whether to bring up for passage without further delay the Laderman-De-Righer bill appropriating $2,000,000 for emergency relief loans to distressed metropolitan counties.

The state finance director's office, although disputed, has contended the money is not available from the general revenue fund because of existing encumbrances. With this avenue partially blocked leaders considered borrowing the money from highway, industrial commission or the liquor rotary funds.

Only major action on the floor of either house occurred when the house passed the senate Baggett-Kane bill appropriating $1,000,000 from the general revenue toward a $1,000,000 institutional building program. The funds would be used to match federal allocations.

The welfare department, it was reported contemplates the following expenditures for state hospitals for the insane under the bill: Cleveland state hospital, $800,000; Massillon, $400,000; Dayton $200,000; Longview (Cincinnati) $300,000; and Toledo, $100,000 or $200,000.

Question Unanswered
The bill now goes to the governor, but proponents of quick action to ease the relief crisis asked how this money could be taken from the general revenue fund if moneys are not available for relief loans.

Estimates of relief needs for the rest of 1938 at the speaker's conference varied from $13,000,000 to $17,000,000. Although this difference existed, it appeared that numerous rural interests are now convinced that relief funds should be distributed on the basis of need. Urban members said this alone justified the creation of the special relief investigating committee.

City officials and several legislators renewed a plea for legislation enabling local governments to broaden their taxing powers if counties must match state grants, but this was vigorously opposed by J. L. Marsha, Youngstown, spokesmen for oil interests and the Interorganization Conference.

Earl E. Hagerman, Dayton finance director and president of the League of Municipalities, again expressed belief that relief should be considered a state responsibility, but that it is not so considered, cities' resources for raising revenue must be expanded.

Questions and Answers

Do you have a recipe for a Pineapple Relish to be used as a salad or served as a meat accompaniment?

We hope this is the recipe you are referring to. This is the way you prepare your double purpose Pineapple relish:

Pineapple Relish
1 C. weak vinegar
1/2 C. sugar
1 pk. lemon-flavored gelatin
1 C. warm water
1 C. walnuts
1 C. dried pineapple
1 C. sweet pickles

Boil vinegar and sugar until it spins a thread (232 degrees). Dissolve gelatin in warm water and add to syrup. Chop walnuts, pineapple, pickles, and mix well. Pour gelatin mixture over this. Chill until firm.

How can I utilize the liquid from maraschino cherries?

Save the liquid from maraschino cherries to use with canned pineapple. Drain off the pineapple juice, cover the slices of fruit with the cherry syrup, and let them stand for several hours. This colors the fruit a delicate shade of pink and imparts a faint flavor of the cherry. Pineapple prepared in this way makes exceptionally dainty salads and desserts.

Can you tell me an easy way for removing gelatin salads or desserts from their mold? I have trouble with the gelatin melting as I dip the mold in warm water for removal of the contents.

When preparing molds for gelatin salads or desserts, brush with a light coating of any tasteless salad oil. This makes for easy removal of the finished product. It does away with the necessity of dipping mold in hot water and running off of gelatin melting and top of mold losing its shape.

Is it possible to remove the odor of fish and onions from a skillet in which they have been cooked?

A sure way to remove the odor and taste from a pan or skillet in which fish, onion, or other "smelly" foods have been cooked is to simmer some vinegar in the vessel for a few minutes. If a few spices are added, the fragrant spicy smell will remove all odor from the house.

Can you suggest a hot bread to serve with a Vegetable Salad for lunch?

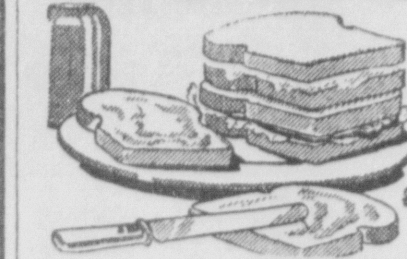

Try these delicious Lemon Muffins. Here's the recipe:

Lemon Muffins
1/2 C. butter
1/2 C. sugar
2 eggs, separated
1 C. flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 C. lemon juice
Grated rind 1/2 lemon

Cream butter and sugar, and beat in the yolks of the eggs. To this mixture add alternately lemon juice and sifted flour with baking powder and salt. Stir in grated rind. Lastly fold in beaten egg whites. Fill well greased muffin tins 2/3 full and bake at 400 degrees for about 18 minutes.

Ashville and Lockbourne Road Given Treatment

The county road from Ashville north to the Franklin county line, known here as the Ashville-Lockbourne pike, is being treated with a crushed stone surfacing the material furnished by Sturm and Dillard. Several trucks are employed in hauling this stone, the loads containing as many as eight tons each. A tarvia coating is later to be applied, we are told.

The turkey hens are yet in egg production with no signs of quitting, so don't worry a bit about where that fine Thanksgiving turkey is to come from.

Frost Recalled

It was on Sunday morning, June 6, 1859, that what is known now as "the big June frost," occurred, said Jerome Peters Thursday when we asked him about it. Told us he was ten years old then and not far from eleven, his birthday being on August 22. One thing he "awfully well" remembers, and that was cutting off acres of wilted corn tops with sheep shears in that hot sun following the frost. But by replanting, a good crop of corn was harvested that Fall, the season for growing, being favorable. The wheat about shoulder high and in head, was entirely destroyed as he recalls. There was no such thing as a corn planter then, deep furrows, made with a single shovel plow, stretched out across what was not usually a very large field. The corn grains were dropped out of hand and covered by what was known as a "jumper" or sometimes called "clod-hopper". And if the great corn acres were planted this way now, there would be little unemployment, Mr. Peters thought. And earlier than this June we are speaking of, snow covered the wheat when in head. Ropes were used to dislodge it and the wheat treated in this manner yielded nothing, but that which the snow had not disturbed, but allowed to remain, gave a good account of itself.

TROJANS TO VIE WITH OHIO AND INDIANA TEAMS

COLUMBUS, June 2—(UP)—The University of Southern California track team, the favorite in both the IC4A and the National Collegiate championships, will appear here in a triangular meet June 11 with Ohio State and Indiana University.

The Southern California team will come to Columbus immediately after the IC4A games at Randall's Island, N. Y., and will continue its training for the Collegiate on June 18.

The Southern California team was here last in 1936 when enroute east preparatory to final tests for the Olympic games.

ROOKIE HURLER HALTS DODGERS WITH FEW HITS

Ival Goodman Scores Freak Home Run; Ernie Koy Clouts, Too

CINCINNATI, June 2—(UP)—Two weeks ago Manager Bill McKechnie of Cincinnati pulled a surprise by starting a rookie southpaw, Johnny Vander Meer, against the National league champion New York Giants.

Vander Meer, who had pitched only 31 innings during the first month of the season, responded in grand style and set the Giants down with five hits to gain a well-earned 4 to 0 victory. That shut-out made the stocky left-hander a regular on the Reds staff and he has performed at a blazing pace ever since.

Vander Meer hung up his fourth triumph as against two losses yesterday when he hurled the Reds to a 4 to 1 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Vander Meer, working with the poise of a veteran and possessing great control, scattered five Brooklyn hits and missed a shut-out when Ernie Koy clouted a home run in the second inning.

With the exception of Koy, the Dodgers were a "soft touch" for Vander Meer. Koy clouted three of the five hits credited to Brooklyn. Pete Coscarart and Forrest Presnell garnered the other two.

Presnell Weakens For the five innings Presnell, a knuckle ball expert, matched the fine hurling of Vander Meer and at the end of that stretch the count was knotted at 1 to 1.

Cincinnati broke the deadlock in the sixth on singles by Ival Goodman and Ernie Lombardi, and a double by Harry Craft.

In the eighth Presnell retired for a pinch hitter and the Reds raked Vito Tamulis for two counters before Van Mungo was rushed in to quell the uprising.

One of the eighth inning runs came on a freak home run by Goodman. Koy, playing rightfield for the Dodgers, got his glove hand on the looping hit and dropped the ball as he fell over the bleacher railing to give Goodman the circuit drive.

The Reds garnered a total of 10 hits. Lombardi with three safeties and Goodman and Frank McCormick with two each led the parade.

The victory enabled Cincinnati to move within one game of the idle third place Boston Bees.

MEL HARDER HIT HARD AS MACKS WIN 9-5 SCRAP

PHILADELPHIA, June 2—(UP)—Ineffective pitching today had cost the Cleveland Indians an opportunity to stretch their American league lead and resulted in the club getting off to an inauspicious start on its second eastern road trip of the season.

The Indians were hammered into submission by a 9 to 5 count here yesterday by the sixth place Philadelphia Athletics.

Manager Oscar Vitt started the veteran Mel Harder in the box and the choice was an unhappy one. Harder was battered from the outset of the contest and in the two and one-third innings he lasted took one of the worst drubbings of his long career.

Before Harder could retire a batter in the first inning the Athletic filled the bases on successive singles by Wally Moses, Dick Seibert and Bill Werber. Frank Hayes popped out and then Bob Johnson slammed out a home run to give Philadelphia a lead it never lost.

King of Punch Throwers

HENRY ARMSTRONG, Negro battler who vanquished Barney Ross to gain a new title, is shown above in a characteristic pose.

Armstrong Meets Ambers On July 26; Card Filled

NEW YORK, June 2—(UP)—Henry Armstrong, welterweight and featherweight champion, will be a busy man from now on.

Just before his 15-round victory over Barney Ross on Tuesday night, Henry signed a contract with Promoter Mike Jacobs to fight exclusively for him for three years, it was revealed today.

His next assignment will come on July 26 when he meets Lou Ambers of Herkimer, N. Y., for the lightweight title, either at Yankee stadium or Madison Square Garden bowl.

The site will be decided after Ambers returns here following a fight next Tuesday in Los Angeles against Baby Arizmendi.

Should Armstrong defeat Ambers, it would mark the first time in history that any boxer ever held three crowns at one time. Bob Fitzsimmons held three championships, but not simultaneously.

Armstrong's welter crown will not be at stake against Ambers, inasmuch as both have to scale in at the lightweight limit of 135 pounds. Any time Armstrong meets an opponent weighing more than 135 pounds, however, the welterweight title will be at stake.

Eddie Meade, his manager, said, "Armstrong will engage in championship fights only. Any time he goes, one of his titles will be at stake. Under no circumstances will he relinquish the featherweight title. He can make 126 pounds any time he has to."

Armstrong will leave for St. Louis next Tuesday to visit his sister and brothers. Then he returns to his Los Angeles home where the Chamber of Commerce is preparing a grand welcome. He will return to New York for the Louis-Schmeling heavyweight fight on June 22 and then go into training at Pompton Lakes, N. J., for the Ambers fight.

DAIRYMEN WIN 8 TO 6 FROM BRONZEVILLE 10

Early Lead Proves Enough After Jolliers Gain In Fifth Inning

Blue Ribbon Dairy softball players gained an 8-6 victory over the Bronzville Jolliers in a city recreation loop game Wednesday evening. The game was played on the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. field.

The Dairy crew staved off a late rally by the Negro lads to earn the victory. The Blue Ribbon boys held an 8-1 lead as the fifth frame started, but Charlie Davis cut that margin down by smashing a home run with the paths filled. He had the same opportunity in the sixth session but forced a runner for the last out.

Chuck Hill and Bob Jones pitched for the losers with Smith and Buskirk tossing for the winners. Tonight's game will be between the Eschelman Feeds and Glitt's food market.

MIKE COCHRANE OFFERS TRAILER FOR MOUNDSMAN

NEW YORK, June 2—(UP)—The "friendly field" between those pals of Connie Mack's great teams of 1929-30-31, Mickey Cochrane and Jimmy Dykes, was a horse of another color today.

Now rival managers of the Tigers and White Sox, Cochrane and Dykes are two of the keenest rivals in baseball—in a ball game, a trade or any battle of wits. Dykes drew first blood with his "city slicker sale" of Al Simmons to Cochrane for $75,000 two years ago. Dykes has laughed at Cochrane ever since.

But Dykes' laugh now is a little hollow. Cochrane finally has the upper hand. He has Vernon Kennedy, the eccentric pitcher whom Dykes traded to Detroit last Winter with the belief that he was putting over a fast one. Cochrane gave Gerald Walker, Marvin Owen and Rookie Mike Tresh for Kennedy and Dixie Walker. A storm of disapproval broke over his head because Gerald Walker had been a Detroit hero.

When Kennedy was with the White Sox he has bitterly criticized for living in a trailer. Some critics said his wildness was the result of improper sleeping. Cochrane was asked yesterday, after Kennedy had hung up his eighth straight victory, whether his star still lives in a trailer.

"I don't know," replied Cochrane. "But if you can find me another guy who can pitch like Kennedy I'll buy him a trailer to live in."

GELBERT STARS AT PLATE, FIELD FOR TOLEDOANS

COLUMBUS, June 2—(UP)—Charley Gelbert, who had a brilliant major league career cut short by a hunting accident, today was making rapid strides along the comeback trail and serving as the sparkplug of the Toledo Mudhens in their drive toward the top of the American Association standing.

Gelbert, slowed up by the accident that resulted in a portion of his heel being shot away, was waived out of the majors last season after trials with Cincinnati and Detroit.

Manager Fred Haney of Toledo originally planned to use Gelbert at second base, but the veteran could not pivot double plays with sufficient speed and was shifted to third. Since the move was made Gelbert has played air-tight defensive ball and hit timely.

Gelbert slammed out two extra base hits, a double and a triple, last night as Toledo downed Minneapolis 8 to 5. The victory ended the Mudhens to climb within one game of the third place Millers.

Ed Selway, the first of four pitchers Toledo used, was credited with the victory.

FARM OUTLOOK REMAINS DRA B IN U. S. STUDY

Additional Decline Held
"Not Likely" By Economists

DEMAND WEAKNESS SEEN

Wheat, Corn, Cotton May Lead Sufferers

WASHINGTON, June 2 (UP)—The outlook for farmers during the next few months is not encouraging, the Department of Agriculture Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports.

"Weakness in the domestic demand for farm products is expected to continue during the Spring and Summer, with some the bureau said in a survey of the farm situation.

Foreign demand for agricultural products continues to recede, the bureau said. United States exports and imports have declined in recent months due to the worldwide recession. No appreciable upturn is seen for the near future.

The demand for farm products this Summer and Fall will be governed largely by business and industrial activity, the bureau said. The general level has continued a steadily downward trend for 10 months.

Sharp Drop Unlikely

Although this trend has slowed down since February there are no assurances of any considerable improvement in the near future, agricultural economists agree. Neither, they said, does any further sharp drop in demand appear probable.

The price situation is even more uncertain. The next two months growing season may determine largely prices of farm products this Fall. Another bumper crop added to surpluses from last year likely would send prices downward sharply.

The most serious price threats appear in prospects of large wheat, corn and cotton crops. Government loans undoubtedly will be made growers if the crops are of much size as to cause any considerable drop in market prices.

Increased Agricultural Adjustment benefit payments, Federal Surplus Commodity Corporation purchases, Farm Security Administration relief grants and loans and government storage loans are expected to ease the depression shock on farmers this Summer and Fall.

Vast Wheat Surplus Indicated

The most immediately serious situation exists as regards wheat. The department estimated production may exceed 950,000,000 bushels—the second largest in history. A 200,000,000-bushel carry-over from last year would give the United States an all-time record surplus of approximately 400,000,000 bushels.

"The trend in domestic and foreign wheat prices is expected to continue downward as adjustment is made toward the new-crop basis," bureau economists said.

"Indications are for a world crop larger than last year and above average."

The corn and cotton crops are not far enough advanced for definite predictions on production and

North and South reached a contract of 4-Spades on this deal after an opening bid of 1-Spade by South, 2-Hearts by West, 2-Spades by North and 4-Spades by South. West cashed the diamond A, and for want of a better lead continued the suit. South won with the diamond K and immediately led a diamond to ruff. On this trick West played his spade J, with the feeling that it was of little use to him and might by some slight chance set up a trick in his partner's hand. He was quite pleased when his partner later captured a trick with the spade Q, which would have fallen under North's two top honors, had West not sacrificed his J.

Being able to win one trick in each suit, East-West managed to set South's 4-Spade contract.

What is the best defense by East-West against North's contract of 5-Diamonds?

COUNCIL HEARS DISCUSSION OF MEMORIAL HALL JANITOR PROBLEM

CITY OFFICIALS AWAIT ACTION ON INJUNCTION

Right Of Monumental Assn. To Discharge Roby Up To Court

ATTORNEY AT MEETING

$60 Pay For Assistant Wins Approval

The Memorial hall janitor was the principal issue discussed by city council Wednesday evening. An ordinance appropriating $60 to pay the May salary of Claude Robinson, assistant janitor at the hall, was passed under suspension of rules. No action was taken by the city dads on a letter received from Ralph Ward, president of the trustees of the Monumental Assn., on the appointment of Mr. Robinson as regular janitor as of June 1 to replace Ralph Roby.

The letter from Mr. Ward, dated May 19, was written to council before an injunction action was filed in Common Pleas court restraining the trustees from interfering with the position of Mr. Roby, janitor at the hall for the last 22 years. Mr. Roby filed the action after he had been notified that his services would not be needed after June 1. A temporary injunction was allowed by Judge Phil A. Henderson last Thursday.

Employed Oct. 1, 1916 Mr. Roby's action stated that he was employed on Oct. 1, 1916 under an ordinance of city council. It contends that the board of trustees has no authority over an employee of the city. Mr. Roby's letter of dismissal was sent to council for the confirmation of Robinson as janitor.

Atty. E. L. Crist, who filed the action for Mr. Roby, was a spectator in council Wednesday evening and was asked to explain the case to council.

He informed council that the city may be made a party in the action. Mr. Crist contended that he did not believe the trustees had the right to discharge Mr. Roby unless they showed cause and he questioned further their right to interfere with a city employee paid by council.

As a background to the case he said the trustees are selected annually by the Soldiers' Monumental Assn., comprised of veterans. It was his contention that the original purpose of the organization was to collect funds for the erection of Memorial hall. He believed the services of the group should have ended when the building was completed. He said trustees in charge

WAS 13 YEARS BEFORE SHE FOUND THE RIGHT MEDICINE

Never Misses an Opportunity to Tell Some Ailing Person What Ton Jon Has Done For Her.

Bess Stevenson, 732 North North, Washington C. H., Ohio, who is the press reporter for the Daughters of America, a member of a local church, also former nurse, speaks of what Ton Jon did for her.

I am glad I found Ton Jon for I had almost given up hope. About four o'clock every day I would get an awful sharp pain that felt just like a knife being stuck in my chest and in the pit of my stomach. This pain would run through to my back. I just could not sleep, I would get up, massage myself and walk the floor all night.

I had been taking everything I could get in way of a laxative for thirteen years and I never did get rid of that pain. Every laxative I tried would wear out, then one day one of the clerks in the Hamilton and Ryan Drug Store seeing what a condition I was in told me about getting in a new medicine entirely different from anything they had ever had in any drug store before.

I bought a bottle, not expecting much relief, used it two days and that awful pain left me.

TON JON NO. 1 is a medicine that increases the activity of every organ of the body, thereby producing proper regular elimination for weak, nervous, rundown systems, that will make you eat better, sleep better, giving you a better feeling and AT THE SAME TIME INCREASING YOUR WEIGHT.

TON JON NO. 2 is not a REDUCING medicine but it does take the waist line down, removing the blood and other accumulation of waste that should be removed for health.

TON JON NO. 3 is a Kidney, Bladder, Prostate and Urinary medicine.

Sold by Hamilton & Ryan, Circleville, Ohio.

436 MIDSHIPMEN URGED TO LEARN WORLD'S TASKS

ANNAPOLIS, June 2—(UP)—President Roosevelt today called on U. S. naval academy graduates to equip themselves with a broad and thorough knowledge of American and world affairs to enable them to cope with modern problems.

The President's advice was contained in his graduation address to 436 midshipmen completing their four year course of study at the Annapolis institution.

Mr. Roosevelt's address was brief and did not touch on specific issues of national or international matters.

"You will never reach the top and stay at the top," Mr. Roosevelt told the students, "unless you are well-rounded in your knowledge of all the other factors in modern civilization that lie outside of your own special profession."

"That applies to all of world thought and world problems, but it applies, of course, with special emphasis to the thought and problems of our own nation."

CHIEF OF G-MEN TAKES COMMAND IN RANSOM CASE

J. Edgar Hoover Arrives In Princeton, Fla.; Several Suspects Grilled

gation in their headquarters in Miami.

3,200 Searching

All hope for the life of the five and a half year old child had all but vanished as an army of 3,200 civilians, including American Legionnaires and members of the Ku Klux Klan, took up again at dawn an inch-by-inch search of the tip of the Florida peninsula. Their objective was to find the baby alive or dead, and, if possible, to find the kidnappers.

G-men directed the searchers and G-men were questioning friends and neighbors of the child's father, prosperous owner of a chain of filling stations, who paid a $10,000 ransom without result early Monday.

The search that got under way at dawn was the biggest thing of its kind ever organized in Florida and probably in the United States. Spurred by a reward of $1,000 provisionally posted by the Dade county commissioners, and steered by the warning of Connelly, head of the Miami office of the G-men, that "we must be prepared to find this boy dead," the motley army of farmers, field workers, Everglade trappers, fishermen, and volunteers from Miami and the surrounding country, set out in a temper that boded no good for any person or persons to whom evidence pointed that they might find.

Against the possibility of mob violence, Governor Frederick P. Cone had authorized the use of national guardsmen and the military authorities were in a position to pour troops into the district quickly.

A flotilla of boats, assembled and manned overnight by the Marine Disaster Relief committee, set out to search the countless hidden bays and coves of the Florida keys which during prohibition were headquarters of rum-running gangs, and long before that were lairs for pirates of the Spanish main.

Swimmers in Action

Expert swimmers recruited and directed by State Fire Warden G. J. Stokes began diving in all inlets along the coast and in rock pits, searching for a body.

It was known that the G-men were all but certain that the child was kidnapped by a resident of this village of 600 or of the Redlands farming district of which Princeton is a center, and for this reason they placed great faith in the ransom bills leading to the criminal. They believed that the kidnappers, unsophisticated and amateur criminals, would stupidly aid their own capture by spending the money at once.

The G-men still questioned M. F. Braxton, 55, who lives near the Cash home, and his son, J. W. Braxton, who works on fishing boats. Braxton was arrested yesterday and his son was taken last night. Braxton, a heavy-set, florid-faced carpenter, knows the kidnaped baby's father well. The identity of the third suspect was not known definitely, but the Miami Herald said today that he was Willard E. Campbell, a man well known in Miami who had been charged during prohibition with rum-running and who was recently arrested for alleged participation in a plot to run guns into a Central American country.

Shoe Box Found

The G-men themselves found the shoe box in which Cash had packed the ransom of $2,430 in $5 bills, $4,790 in $10 bills, $2,100 in $20 bills, and $500 in $50 bills, and in which he had turned it over to the kidnappers. It was in a field adjoining the road where the kidnappers stopped Cash's car. Nearby were the prints of automobile tires. Casts of the prints were taken and the box was examined for finger prints.

The G-men were spurred by the fact that their last three cases before the present one—those of Charles Mattson, 10, and Peter Levine, 12, who were murdered by their abductors, and of Mrs. Alice Parsons, the Long Island matron who has never been found—still are unsolved.

In addition to the ransom bills and the inch-by-inch search, they had strong circumstantial evidence that the crime was committed by local men, and, on that basis, they were ascertaining whether any resident had disappeared since Monday when the ransom was paid.

The circumstantial case was this:

Cash was the only resident of Princeton who could have paid a $10,000 ransom and the sum the kidnappers asked approximately the total of his ready cash. The kidnappers were familiar with the routine of the Cash household and knew thoroughly the exterior and interior layout of the frame apartment house which also houses his store and filling station. Strangers would have had to devote some time to getting this information, and would have been noted in this village. The map drawn on the back of the ransom note showed an intimate knowledge of the countryside.

JAPS CONCERNED BY JOINT ACT OF U. S. AND BRITAIN

TOKYO, June 2—(UP)—Rear Admiral Kiyoshi Noda, Navy ministry spokesman, said today that Japan would be gravely concerned if the United States and Great Britain in co-operation developed air force bases in the Phoenix and Ellice islands.

He explained that Japan would be concerned because the groups are close to Japan's southern islands. Noda said also that Japan was disregarding for the present, because they were unconfirmed, reports that the American and British navies might make joint use of navy bases at Singapore and in the Hawaiian islands.
